

ARMY ORDERS PRODUCTION OF GERM WEAPONS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has ordered its chemical corps to develop new germ, gas and radiological weapons, and the defenses against them, "to the fullest extent the human mind can encompass."

Secretary of the Army Brucker announced this broadened mission for the corps yesterday in directing a reorganization along lines recommended by a special committee of civilian scientists.

The committee said the corps should stress research and "uninhibited speculation" on how to convert new ideas into methods of subduing an enemy without necessarily killing people and without destroying property the victor might want to save.

U. S. Maintains Superiority

In other developments in the defense picture yesterday, Secretary of the Air Force Quarles expressed confidence that America, with its present rate of increase in air power, is maintaining superiority over Russia.

Quarles told NBC-TV-radio interviewers "we must take very seriously the challenge" of Soviet air might.

Reuben B. Robertson Jr., deputy secretary of defense, predicted on another TV program that defense spending in the fiscal year beginning next July 1 is "going to be about the same, if not a little higher" than the 34½ billion dollars estimated for this year. He spoke on a TV program filmed for two New York state stations — WHAM-TV, Rochester; WBEN-TV, Buffalo.

Merchant Is Duped By The Real Thing

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — John W. Williams, giving his appliance store a coat of paint one evening, heard a voice in a grocery next door demand:

"Let's have the money — and don't waste time. This is a stick-up!"

He figured his friend, Grocer Gaylord W. Shiveley, was watching television. Williams, a crime program fan, decided he'd take a break and go next door to watch, too.

At the door he was accosted by a young man holding a handkerchief over his face, making off with the store's receipts.

Realizing he had come face to face with the real thing, Williams jumped the man and with Shiveley's help subdued him. Leonard O'Neal Jr., 21, was charged with assault and robbery.

Bird Dog Switches Allegiance To Hens

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Joe, a bird dog and a very tender-mouthed retriever, started going with Roger Spencer to the chicken house to feed the hens and gather the eggs. He soon caught on, Joe began to take eggs from nests and place them in a cottonlined basket.

Joe hasn't learned to feed the hens.

Man Escapes Injury As Auto Runs Wild

MUSKOGEE, Mich. (AP) — Gilbert Dias, 40, suffered only minor hurts when he was tossed out of his auto in a collision.

But his car went on to jump a curb, smash two chairs on a lawn, barge through a fence, crash through a garage wall and knock a parked car through the opposite side of the garage.

LEADS 400 HITTERS

NEW YORK (AP) — When it comes to 400 hitters Rogers Hornsby stands alone. Of the seven major leaguers who have hit above .400, Hornsby is the only batter to achieve the feat three times. He did it in 1922 with .420 for the St. Louis Browns and in 1924 and 1925 with .424 and .403, respectively, for the St. Louis Cardinals. Ty Cobb and George Sisler hit above .400 twice.

UNKNOWN BEFORE 1949 ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Sammy Bonmetta, one of the leading jockeys in the east, was an unknown apprentice in the spring of 1949. The son of an emigrant Greek tailor in Baltimore was so obscure that his horse in the first race and the winner of the second race paid a $3,015.40 daily double at Monmouth Park. Nov. 27, Sam led the Monmouth riders that year and repeated twice since.

MIDDLECOFF, LITTLER TOPS

CHICAGO (AP) — When it comes to winning golf tournaments, Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Gene Littler are the first two pros to take four events this year. Middlecoff won the Crosby International, St. Petersburg Open, Masters and Western Open for his first four. Littler took the Los Angeles Open, Phoenix Open, Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas and the Insurance City Open.

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho

Ralph Reinhold of New York kept cool when a fish made off with his line. Reinhold took after the fish in his boat on Lake Coeur d'Alene, reached into the water, grabbed the broken end of his fishing line, tied it up and reeled in a 10-pound Kamloops trout.

town at 3:20 p.m. Saturday.

Police said that Eyler was admitted to the Hanover hospital suffering possible fractures of the left shoulder, knees and hands. Worley was treated for a lacerated eye and abrasions of both knees and was discharged.

Police said the crash occurred at the western end of Abbottstown in front of the Henry Landis Hatchery when Worley, driving east, apparently dozed off momentarily, and his car swerved to the left, striking the Eyler vehicle.

Police said that when Eyler saw the other car heading for him, he tried to drive into the Landis parking lot, but was unable to get off famed Belair stud farm at Bowie, Md., and this year's outstanding race horse Nashua.

Police investigators have reported finding nothing contrary to Mrs. Woodward's claim that the shotgun death in the couple's Oyster Bay, N. Y., home was an accident.

Actress Gives Up In Clothes Brush Tiff

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Jill Jarmyn's attorney said she would like to drop her request for a battery complaint against red-haired Susan Hayward stemming from a clothes brush bopping incident in the bedroom of actor Don (Red Ryder) Barry.

Lawyer Saul Ross said his 23-year-old blonde client telephoned him yesterday to say, "after all, her children might get dragged into this."

She apparently referred to Miss Hayward's twin sons, objects of custody litigation between the 34-year-old actress and her ex-husband, actor Jess Barker.

Damage to the Eyler car was estimated by police at $800, and to the Worley vehicle at $400. Both were taken to the Hanover General Hospital in the New Oxford Fire Co. ambulance.

Although people of all levels of intelligence have visual defects, they are more common among the mentally retarded and their severity tends to be proportionate to the degree of mental deficiency, says the Better Vision Institute.

Police Find Stray Hiker Fast Asleep

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 9-year-old boy, who became lost yesterday afternoon on heavily wooded Mount Parnell about 12 miles west of here, was found early today, state police reported.

Searchers found Richard Starr, Chambersburg R. 3, sleeping on a lawn at the foot of the mountain. He had become separated from two brothers and a friend while hiking.

Police said Richard was hiking with his brothers, Eugene, 15, and Lewis, 13, and Carl Bender, 11. The boys told police Richard became ill and they left him sitting on a stump and went for help. When they returned Richard was gone.

Mrs. Starr said Richard was unharmed.

SULTAN GETS THRONE NOV. 18

PARIS (AP)—Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay said today newly restored Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef will be back in the capital of Morocco by Nov. 18, the anniversary of his enthronement 28 years ago.

Pinay spoke to reporters as Youssef, in a gesture of amity, laid a wreath on the tomb of the French Unknown Soldier.

Before leaving for today's ceremony, Youssef saw a delegation of Moroccan rabbis and told them he would make no distinction between his Moslem and Jewish subjects. Traditionally, Moroccan Jews have had the inferior status of "protégés" of the Sultan. During Youssef's exile, Moroccan Jews have been speeding immigration to Israel.

But even as the Moroccan flag flew over Henry IV pavilion near St. Cloud to show that Youssef had regained his throne, there was still violence in Morocco. At least one Moroccan was killed and 19 wounded yesterday in a terrorist attack at Agadir, in the southern part of the country. Two bombs went off this morning in Casablanca, the commercial capital, but there were no casualties.

Jack Benny Wins 7-Year Tax Scrap

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The U. S. Tax Court in Washington has ruled in favor of comedian Jack Benny in a seven-year-old tax case involving about a million dollars.

The case involved a question of whether Benny should pay personal income taxes or capital gains tax on the 1948 sale of Amusement Enterprises, Inc.

The government contended the comedian should pay personal income taxes at a rate of about 75

TAXPAYERS OF ADAMS COUNTY

All taxpayers are concerned and alarmed about the inequalities and inequities resulting from our present tax assessment system. Our tax assessment system is under the control and direction of the County Commissioners.

The Democratic Candidates for County Commissioners have pledged, when elected:

1. To re-appraise and re-evaluate the entire tax assessment system to eliminate the present inequalities and inequities.
2. To employ competent personnel to carry out this pledge.

One Democratic Candidate is from the NORTHWESTERN SECTION of the County, and the other is from the SOUTHEASTERN SECTION, thereby assuring all sections of the County of a sympathetic and understanding approach to their problems.

GEORGE E. KANE
Franklin Township Farmer and Fruit Grower

ELECT BOTH DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Elected together, they will have an opportunity as a majority to carry out their pledges.

EDWARD J. SNEERINGER

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

A Beautiful Cottage: Mr. H. D. Wattles, of the "Globe Inn," has just erected, in West Middle street, in this place, one of the most beautiful cottages we have yet seen. Everything about it strikes us as being in excellent taste, but that cornice we cannot too much admire. This style of architecture is not too far removed from the present, and we venture the opinion that there is not a building in the county combining more conveniences than the one which Mr. Wattles has had erected. Let his example be followed by those possessing the means, and our town will soon rank "A No. 1" or beauty in the Commonwealth. He deserves credit for making the start.

The Cemetery: The Gateway building at the Cemetery is ready for the roof, and we may expect shortly "to see it as it is to be." It will present, we feel confident, an appropriate and commanding appearance — such as few Cemeteries out of the cities can boast of.

The Know Nothings have called a County Meeting, to be held at the Court-House, in this place, on Monday evening, the 19th instant. They appear to be willing to go any length to attain the mercenary ends of their unprincipled leaders — but it won't do. The people are not to be caught napping at this late day. Their eyes are wide open to the follies and corruptions of Know Nothingism.

Garfield and Arthur Meetings: Gettysburg — Friday night, President Dr. Charles Horner; Vice Presidents, Hugh McIlhenny, Geo. B. Monfort, Joseph A. Diehl, Abraham Bitzenberger, John H. Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols died Wednesday at the residence of her brother, in Boonsboro, Md., in the one hundredth year of her age. She was born in Frederick county in 1781.

Zachariah Ebaugh, of Houcksville, Carroll county, Md., aged 84 years, was stricken with paralysis on Tuesday and died on Thursday. James Wampler, of the same place, was caught under a falling tree and had his thigh crushed and was otherwise injured.

Epizooty: This disease is sweeping over the country as an epidemic, similar to that of 1872, but thus far not as fatal in its results. Care, however, is necessary, and especially guard against improper ventilation, exposure, over-work, debilitating medicines. An old Veterinary Surgeon of the army sends the New York Times the following "simple and safe cure" for the epizooty: "Take one pound gum asafetida, mix it with one gallon boiling water, stir the mixture constantly until the asafetida is dissolved, let the mixture cool, strain and give one-half pint every three hours. This will relieve the horse within twelve hours, and give him a good appetite."

ON HANDLING YOURSELF

I once heard an inspiring lecture by Prof. John B. DeMont. One statement has stayed with me. He said: "It is serious business starting a soul voyaging toward eternity!" Every human being is unique, as Emerson has so well said. Nothing is so important as a proper handling of one's self. It isn't too strange that other people misunderstand us, since so few of us understand ourselves.

Just listen to this line from the writing of Stevenson: "There are not words enough in all Shakespeare to express the innermost fraction of a man's experience in an hour!" What a world of opportunities are hidden within us, awaiting expression. What a groundwork on which to plan and build. We are largely our own architects of happiness. We can build our own world about us, and in us. If we learn the art of handling ourselves we can be a help to others, for largely we are the inheritors of the same trusts, visions and hopes.

Many a man runs his own business successfully without knowing the simplest things about his own wonderful body, and how that body should be respected so as to make his life healthy and full of happiness. A man's best recommendation is himself and how he handles himself from day to day.

One reason why so many find it difficult, if not impossible, to live with someone else is because they have never learned the art — yes, the ART — of living happily with themselves! All about us are the endless numbers of little beggars of knowledge. Appraise them and live. Write upon a pad of paper the many blessings that are yours. List all about you that is interesting and instructive, both indoors and outdoors. Look into the silent sky. All things in Nature can become a part of all that you are. The Creator whispers hope and encouragement to you, no matter where you may be, or go.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Best Things in Life"

EDUCATION
Life is itself a public school
Which all who live attend.
When pupils disobey a rule
The lesson's at an end.
The disobedient students learn
Life's discipline is swift and stern.

What not to do and what to do
Are often taught by pain.
No one who lives a lifetime through
Untutored can remain.
Men learn from failure's stinging
The difference 'twixt right and wrong.

Both love and hate are teachers wise
And so are good and bad.
From every human enterprise
Some lesson can be had.
For every selfish act we get
The punishment of deep regret.

They've named this "education week."
Our schools with pride view.
Some for a modern system seek,
Some think the old will do.
Well, life's a school for all mankind.
Its system perfectly designed.

Pennsylvania College have taken a lively interest in the political campaign, having two uniformed marching clubs — a "Garfield and Arthur" Club and a "Hancock and English" Club. On Monday night the two Clubs united and wound up the campaign with a burlesque torch-light masquerade. Headed by an apology for a band and drum corps, with transparencies bearing ludicrous mottoes, and the members dressed in every conceivable garb, male and female, white and black, they marched the streets, attracting much attention. The general good humor that prevailed was a fitting complement of the excitement that characterized the earlier portion of the campaign.

TWELVE STATES
HOLD ELECTIONS
ON TUESDAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Voters in 12 states ballot tomorrow in off-year state or local elections. The results promise little in the way of national significance since most campaigns have been local and no congressional seats are being filled.

The featured contests are for governor of Kentucky and mayor of Philadelphia. Most political observers forecast Democratic victories. Both posts now are held by Democrats.

State legislatures will be elected in Kentucky, New Jersey and Virginia. Mississippi is the only other state electing a governor but the winner of the Democratic primary, Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman, is unopposed.

City Election
City elections, many of them non-partisan, will be held in Boston, Cleveland, Indianapolis and dozens of smaller cities in Arkansas, Connecticut, Indiana, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah and Wyoming.

Referendums of national interest are on the ballots in two states. Ohioans will vote on a proposal that would meet the main condition of auto industry agreements for a supplemental layoff pay plan. And Kentucky will decide whether to lower the minimum voting age from 21 to 18.

In the contest for governor of Kentucky, A. B. Chandler is attempting a political comeback. The Republican opponent of the former governor, senator and baseball commissioner is Edwin R. Denney, former U. S. district attorney.

The choice for mayor of Philadelphia in veteran Democratic campaigner Richardson Dilworth and Republican W. Thacher Longstreth, 35-year-old advertising executive. Democrats won the post in 1951, ending 67 years of Republican rule.

The referendum proposal in Ohio would permit payment of state unemployment compensation to jobless workers receiving layoff pay from their employers.

Since some states do not permit such dual payments, the auto industry agreements won't be effective until such payments have approval in states in which two-thirds of a company's employees work. If Ohio voters add their approval to that already given in some states, this condition will have been met.

MILES LEAVES
ORIOLES' POST

BALTIMORE (AP)—Clarence W. Miles announced his resignation today as president of the Baltimore Orioles and strongly recommended his successor be an "experienced baseball executive."

The surprise announcement by the man who played the big role in bringing major league baseball back to Baltimore in 1953 after 50 years, said his resignation would be effective Nov. 18, date of the next annual meeting of the stockholders of the Baltimore Baseball Club.

Renewing his expressions of faith in Paul Richards, Miles said the "impelling reason" for his resignation "is my deep-rooted conviction that the services of an experienced baseball executive brought to Baltimore at this time would greatly improve the chances of the Orioles for rapid advancement."

TWO CHILDREN
BURN TO DEATH

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two children burned to death today as fire swept their parents' farmhouse home in nearby Madison Twp.

The victims, trapped upstairs when flames enveloped the stairway, were Larry Stein, 8, and his sister, Jean, 20 months.

The fire was discovered by the father, Robert Stein, when he went to the barn to feed his cattle. Seeking to send an alarm, Stein found the telephone line burned out and ran to a neighbor's home for another phone.

Meanwhile, two other children—Douglas, 7, and Harry, 4—were rescued from the porch roof through the aid of a passing motorist.

Mr. Stein was treated for second degree burns of the face, arms and back at Bloomsburg Hospital. Stein also was treated for shock.

Bloomsburg and Millville fire companies fought the flames which rapidly gutted the frame house that Stein had purchased only three years ago.

Firemen attributed the blaze to an oil heater which exploded in the kitchen.

N.Y.-Miami Run

NEW YORK (AP) — National Air Lines has announced an order for six Douglas DC8 jet planes that will be used between New York and Miami and will cut an hour off that flight.

Delivery of the first of these aircraft, which will carry 130 passengers, is expected in May of 1956. The other five are expected by the summer of 1960.

National said its six planes will cost $36,000,000, plus $1,400,000 for spare parts. This is the first step in a $95,000,000 fleet expansion program, it added.

The planes, it said, will cruise 556 m.p.h. at altitudes from 30,000 to 40,000 feet and will make the Miami-New York run in 2 hours 20 minutes.

Princess Margaret
To Attend Party

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret has accepted an invitation to a private party being given by U. S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich and Mrs. Aldrich Nov. 15, her first such engagement since she announced the end of her romance with Group Capt. Peter Townsend.

Queen Elizabeth II, the Duke of Edinburgh, the Queen Mother and Margaret all are to be guests at the party at the ambassador's residence in Regents Park. About 200 invitations have been issued. The royal family has been asked for dinner with a few others and other guests will come later for dancing.

Townsend reported back for duty today as air attaché at the British Embassy in Brussels.

RAYBURN FIGHTS
ANTI STEVENSON
GROUPS IN SOUTH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of Adlai E. Stevenson were reported counting heavily today on Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) to help head off any anti-Stevenson coalition in the South.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), a Southern leader, predicted meantime that Stevenson will be the nation's next president and said "I don't see how he can possibly lose the Democratic nomination." He commented during a locally telecast interview in Atlanta.

Stevenson is expected to announce formally next week his candidacy for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

Rayburn is spearheading a fight in Texas to take that state's Democratic party machinery away from Gov. Allan Shivers. The Texas governor supported President Eisenhower in 1952 and has announced he will be for "practically anybody" — including a Republican — over Stevenson next year.

While a victory for the Rayburn group next year would not be likely to result in a Texas delegation pledged to Stevenson, the speaker's influence would be counted upon to prevent that state's 52 nomination convention votes from gravitating toward a stop-Stevenson movement.

Shivers has announced he plans to travel the South to enlist anti-Stevenson support. He has mentioned Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio as a possible recipient of backing he is able to drum up, although Lausche has denied any connection with any stop-Stevenson movement.

Russell, who has also spoken favorably of Lausche, expressed surprise at "the play the newspapers gave my comments." He said he mentioned Lausche only as a "good darkhorse" in case of a convention deadlock.

Maryland Needs One Victory For Orange Bowl Invitation; Michigan-Rose Bowl Uncertain

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The bowl selectors, who should stand in bed for all they learned last Saturday, take another look at the somewhat curdled cream of the hopefuls this Saturday as college football takes a crack at determining conference champions.

At least six major bowl berths are open, with the Cotton, Sugar and Gator Bowl committees still unsure who they'll wind up with. And after Illinois bounced Michigan from the unbeaten-untied ranks 25-6 last Saturday, the Rose Bowl can't print tickets yet, either.

Time was when it looked like Michigan vs. UCLA at Pasadena. The UCLA's still are going strong after shelling College of Pacific 34-0 in a non-league game Saturday, but now Michigan State, beaten only by Michigan, has poked into the Big 10 picture. It looks like the Big 10 choice hinges on the Nov. 19 showdown between Ohio State and Michigan.

Ohio State Ineligible
Ohio State, the current leader, is ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl even if it repeats as Big 10 champ. With Michigan playing weak sister Indiana this weekend, Michigan State has to smack Minnesota and hope for an Ohio State victory next week since the Spartans play one less game than Michigan.

Maryland, teamed with Oklahoma and West Virginia as the last of the major unbeaten-untied teams, can settle a bowl and title "question" Saturday by beating Clemson. Actually, there's little question the Terps, who made Louisiana State their 13th straight victim last weekend 13-0, can take the Clemson, the Atlantic Coast Conference title and the Orange Bowl berth in one easy sweep.

Sooners Are Sure
Oklahoma fills the other half of the Orange Bowl bill, after being awarded the Big 7 Conference crown before the season even opened. Nebraska is the lone "threat" to the Sooners and the Huskers may be shaken by Colorado this week while Oklahoma makes Iowa State its 27th straight victim. Nebraska beat Iowa State 10-7 while Oklahoma was blanking Missouri 20-0 last Saturday.

West Virginia comes in for another look by the bowl selectors Saturday against Pitt. The Mountaineers won their third straight Southern Conference crown last weekend, but may have left the selectors skeptical in their mere 13-7 decision over George Washington.

The bowl committees also make a second study of the Southeastern and Southwest Conferences this weekend.

Tie Didn't Help
Georgia Tech and Tennessee gave the selectors little help by playing a 7-7 tie Auburn and Mississippi State didn't prove much either, although Auburn won 27-26. Only Kentucky provided an obvious decision — the Wildcats were whipped by Vanderbilt 34-0.

Mississippi, which wallowed Memphis State 39-6, still looks to repeat as SEC champ, but almost everybody gets to stay in on the act until the Rebels play Mississippi State Nov. 26.

This week it's Tech against winless Alabama, Tennessee vs. Florida, Auburn-Georgia, Miss. State-LSU and Mississippi-Houston (a non-conference foe).

The Southwest champ is the Cotton Bowl host in a normal year, but with the present leader, Texas A&M on probation, the runner-up gets a chance if need be. Texas and Texas Christian play the big game this week. If Texas, a 50-20, 21-20 winner over Baylor last Saturday, gets past TCU it could set up a title showdown between the Longhorns and Aggies Thanksgiving Day.

Other Games
Elsewhere, Yale and Princeton could settle the Ivy League title this weekend. Yale Jarred Army 14-12 Saturday when Princeton was stunned 7-6 by Harvard.

Idaho State won the Rocky Mountain title last weekend by whipping Colorado Mines 27-13. Colorado A&M meets Utah for the Skyline championship Saturday.

Notre Dame, the major independent with a 6-1 record after toying with Penn last weekend 46-14, invades North Carolina this week. Navy, which shared a role among the nation's top teams with Notre Dame before being tied by Duke 7-7 last weekend, next plays Columbia—a restful reprieve after facing the Irish and Blue Devils on successive Saturdays.

For the fifth straight year the annual Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. regatta will be held on Onondaga Lake, Syracuse. The date is June 16.

BEARS AND RAMS HIGHLIGHT PRO GAMES SUNDAY

The Associated Press
Commissioner Bert Bell, whose many duties for the national football league include making up the schedule, has come up with an authentic "natural."

The commissioner had no way of foreseeing it, when he drew up the schedule long before the season, but he's got the Los Angeles Rams, Western Conference leaders, down to play Chicago's ram-paging Bears next Sunday. The Rams, sparked by a new backfield combination, rallied in the second half to defeat San Francisco 27-14 yesterday and hold their conference lead.

But they'll have to go all out next Sunday to hang onto it against the Bears, who crushed Green Bay 52-31 yesterday for their fourth successive victory. The Bears' 4-3 mark, shared by Baltimore, leaves them one game behind Los Angeles' 5-2.

Browns, Redskins Win
The Eastern Conference "race," meanwhile, became more like a Cleveland romp as the Browns, paced by George Ratterman, rallied in the second half for a 24-14 victory over New York and Washington slapped down Philadelphia 34-21. Washington's 4-3 record leaves the "Skins tied with Pittsburgh, which bowed to the Chicago Cardinals 27-13 Saturday night. Both trail Cleveland by two games with five to play.

Baltimore fell out of a Western Conference first-place tie with Los Angeles Saturday night as Detroit hung up its first victory of the year by a 24-14 count.

Uses New Backfield
With his team trailing 14-3 at the half, Ram Coach Sid Gillman gambled by sending out a backfield that included both 226-pound Tank Younger and Larry Morris, a converted, 210-pound linebacker. The beef trust paid off by grinding out a 93-yard march good for a touchdown, scored by Younger from two yards out. Then San Francisco quarterback Y. A. Tittle, deep in San Francisco territory, elected to pass and Los Angeles' Andy Robustelli grabbed it on the 10-yard line for the touchdown that put the Rams ahead to stay.

Except for five intercepted passes and the clock, which halted Bear drives in both halves, Coach George Halas' team was literally unstoppable. They scored 8 out of the 15 times they got the ball, averaging nearly 7.7 yards per play on their touchdown marches, and never had to punt.

Ratterman Stars
Ratterman emerged from the long shadow cast by Otto Graham to lead the Cleveland to victory after the Giants got off to a 14-3 halftime lead. He passed to Ray Renfro for one touchdown, to Pete Brewster for the score that put Cleveland ahead and wrapped it up with a touchdown of his own on a four-yard jaunt around end.

Defensive end Gene Brito set off a 5-minute explosion that netted Washington 17 points against Philadelphia. He hit Ted Weger so hard the Eagle back lost the ball. Roy Barni picked it up and ran 18 yards for an easy touchdown.

Two minutes later Vic Janowicz kicked the first of two field goals and two minutes after that Ralph

Pick 8 Bullettes For Mid-East Play

Eight members of the Gettysburg College girls' field hockey squad were selected to all-star Central Pennsylvania teams to participate in the Mid-East tournament at Pittsburgh next Saturday with all-star teams from the Finger Lakes and Pittsburgh areas. The all-star team from the coming tournament will take part in the national tournament at Wilson College, Chambersburg, November 24 to 26.

Last Friday the Bullettes varsity lost to Ursinus here 6-2.

The crack steeplechaser Galatin was imported from England and is owned by Carlton Palmer of New York and Gerard Smith of New Canaan, Conn.

15 FIGHT FOR LEAGUE TITLES IN LOOP RACE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Title races in the state's major scholastic football conferences were sizzling hot today with 15 teams fighting for honors in five loops.

With only three more weeks of the 1955 campaign remaining, a playoff appears likely in the WPIAL AA; not more than seven teams have a good chance in the Eastern Conference, Clearfield and Huntingdon are nip and tuck in the Western Conference, and it's still Williamsport and Steelton in the Central Penn.

Although still faced with two conference games, Carlisle, defending co-champion and the only undefeated squad in the loop, appears a good bet to take South Penn honors on its own this year.

Unless Alliquippa and Ambridge tie in their game Friday night, a playoff is a certainty in the WPIAL AA. Mount Lebanon, the only other contender, finished its season over the weekend with a 31-13 win over West View or a 6-0 league record.

If Alliquippa and Ambridge tie, the title would go to Mount Lebanon. Otherwise, Mount Lebanon would play the winner of the Veterans Day clash. The playoff date has been tentatively set at Nov. 19.

In the Eastern Conference, only two teams are rated a chance to cop the title from defending champion Mount Carmel. But the Red Tornadoes, pushed from first spot when they lost to Coal Twp., are right back on top again.

It was Mount Carmel's 39-13 victory over Shenandoah and Minersville's 21-6 win over Ashland which rocketed the Tornadoes to the top and pushed the Miners to second place. Mount Carmel is rated at .629 and Minersville at .618.

But third-place Coal Twp. is also in the running at .485. Mahanoy City, although fourth at .482, has two losses which will probably eliminate the squad from the title.

In the Northern Division, Swoyersville's 7-6 loss to West Scranton wasn't enough to unseat the Sailors from top spot at .629 but it did boost the Invaders into second place at .613.

It was Swoyersville's failure to convert the extra point twice—a West Scranton offense gave them the second try—that knocked them from the major unbeaten ranks.

The only other teams in the division given a chance for the title are third-place Wilkes-Barre Meyers and fourth-ranked Old Forge, loser only to Swoyersville 14-7.

Although Huntingdon and Clearfield both won their weekend games, the gap between the teams in the rating system tightened by 10 points. Huntingdon, 18-7 victor over Chief Logan, still holds first spot on a .510 rating. But Clearfield's 19-0 victory over Northern Cambria moved them to 500.

Each squad has won eight league games and each has one more game to play. Huntingdon meets Lewistown and Clearfield plays Curwensville Friday night. The conference leaders are the favorites to win.

The Central Penn is still the same. But defending champion Williamsport had its hands full in winning Harrisburg William Penn 14-0 and challenger Steelton had to go all out to whip York 21-6. The Thanksgiving Day clash between the two should decide the race.

Swoyersville was the only team knocked from the major all-winning ranks over the weekend to leave 12 undefeated-untied squads. With nine victories are Clearfield, Minersville, Warren and Huntingdon.

Wilkes-Barre, Meyers, Easton and Williamsport each have eight wins while Carlisle, Alliquippa, Mahanoy Twp., and Lower Merion have seven. Steelton has six.

Lower Merion's 53-0 win over Cheltenham boosted the longest all-winning streak in the state to 21. Mahanoy Twp. has won 20 straight games.

Penn State Will Play Ohio State

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Penn State University will play a nine-game football schedule next year including Ohio State for the first time since 1912 and North Carolina State for the first time since 1924.

Canners Hand Dallastown 51-14 Drubbing In Laurel Conference Game Saturday

Biglerville High School rolled up an easy 51-14 victory over Dallastown at Biglerville Saturday evening to take over third place in the Laurel Conference.

Led by Jim May, who accounted for two touchdowns on runs of 54 and 25 yards, the Cannners accounted for eight sixpointers and scored in every period against the outclassed Wildcats.

Early in the first period Dallastown had a scoring opportunity when it recovered a Biglerville fumble on the Cannners' 30. The strong Biglerville defense was equal to the occasion and eventually took the ball on the 10 on a recovered fumble.

Roe Races Over
Coach Bill Coradetti's outfit followed with its first touchdown drive. Jim May raced 29 yards to the Wildcats' 34 from where Bryant Roe broke away to go the whole way. Ken Pitzer booted the point.

A few plays later Dallastown was forced to kick to Nelson Weber on the Biglerville 46. On the next play May swept end to race 54 yards to register his first TD. Again Pitzer booted the point.

Three tallies in the second quarter left no doubt as the outcome. Early in the period Maynard Gochenauer broke through to block a punt and scooped up the ball to race 34 yards. Pitzer booted his third straight extra point.

May, Ken Baltzley and John Constable spear-headed the drive for another Cannner score. Constable streaking over from the 22. Pitzer's kick was blocked.

May Scores Again
The final tally of the half came on May's 26-yard dash, a 24-yard aerial. Baltzley to Don Rentzel, setting up the play.

Early in the third quarter Constable got off on a long run to the Dallastown 16. After picking up a first down on the 5, Paul Howery got around left end to score. Again Pitzer's boot was blocked.

The Wildcats finally broke into the scoring late in the third quarter when Glenn Klinedinst picked up a fumble and ran 40 yards. Eberly booted the point to make the score 39-7.

Late in the period Ronnie Koonitz fired a pass to Don Hartzell which was good for 35 yards to set the stage for an early last period Biglerville score. Baltzley plunging across from the 4.

Weber On Long Run
The longest run of the game followed a few moments later when Weber got loose and streaked 71 yards for the final Cannner TD.

In the late moments Dallastown added its second six-pointer. Grove tallying from the 5. A pass to Neuhaus produced the extra point.

The victory upped the Cannners' record to 4-4. They will close their season Saturday night by entertaining Kennard-Dale in another league tilt. Dallastown has an overall 2-7 record.

UNITED STATES WINS RYDER CUP FOR 8TH TIME

By BOB MYERS
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—It would appear that the best way for Great Britain to gain possession of the Ryder Cup golf trophy must be on some sort of lend-lease deal.

The United States today has the gold cup for another two years, winning it for the eighth time in the biennial battle yesterday, eight matches to four.

This 8-4 score was the best the British have ever done on American soil and at least one sparkling upset was included in their victories—the victory of England's John Jacobs over the American star, Cary Middlecoff, one up on the 36th hole.

But the cold fact remains that the U. S. team, performing before several thousand fans under a hot sun and bright blue skies at the Thunderbird Country Club, packed too much talent.

3 Single Matches
And the cup, which hasn't seen the British Isles since 1933, remains in the custody of the Professional Golfers Assn. of America.

The eight singles matches yesterday went like this:
UNITED STATES—Sam Snead over Capt. Dai Rees, 3 and 1.
Capt. Chick Harbert over Sydney Scott, 3 and 2.

Tommy Bolt over Christy O'Connor, 4 and 2.
Doug Ford over Harry Weetman, 3 and 2.

Jack Burke Jr. over Harry Bradshaw, 3 and 2.
BRITISH—Jacobs over Middlecoff, one up.

Eric Brown over Jerry Barber, 3 and 1.
Arthur Lees over Marty Furgol, 3 and 1.

Saturday the U.S. won three out of four doubles matches.

GIOVANELLI TO BATTLE PEREZ

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Danny Giovanelli, fighting his second main event in eight days, is a throwback to the era when a neighborhood favorite might "top" his hometown club program every week.

It took a break in the card for Giovanelli to get his chance. Danny was available when a cut lip forced Chico Vejar to withdraw from tonight's scheduled date with Danny Joe Perez at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

Giovanelli won a decision over Paolo Mella of Italy in the same club last Monday, his first outing since late August. He jumped at the chance to take on Perez again or he stepped Danny Joe the route.

The match will be seen on television in some parts of the country.

JUNIATA AND DREXEL REMAIN UNBEATEN CLUBS

PENN FOOTBALL ROUNDUP
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Juniata and Drexel remain untied and unbeaten today with Juniata holding the enviable record of 21 straight victories.

Meanwhile, Susquehanna won, ending one of the game's longest losing skeins as Pennsylvania teams approached the end of the 1955 season.

Juniata's 47-0 rout over Grove City extended this season's winning streak to six games.

Drexel beat Western Maryland 34-13 to collect its 10th straight win and sixth for this season. Susquehanna, after losing 16 in a row, eked out a 21-19 victory over Wagner before a happy homecoming crowd of 2,000.

Westminster, once tied but unbeaten, defeated Allegheny 34-0 with Bill White, the state's leading scorer, tallying three times.

Dickinson Trounced
In other games PMC galloped over Dickinson 39-0 for its fifth win in six starts. Delaware pulverized Gettysburg 36-0 and Moravian crushed Ursinus 40-0 for its fourth victory.

As for the state's larger schools Penn succumbed to Notre Dame 46-14 after playing to a 14-14 halftime tie. Penn State edged Syracuse, 21-20, by rallying in the final period. Pitt defeated Virginia 18-7, Muhlenberg downed Temple 7-0, Lehigh slaughtered VMI 39-0, Lafayette defeated Rutgers 16-7 and Colgate beat Bucknell 33-7.

In other contests Lincoln defeated St. Paul's of Virginia 6-0 for its first win of the season. Bloomsburg scored 7-6 over California to remain in the running for the Teacher's College Conference title. Carnegie Tech shutout Franklin and Marshall 12-0, Albright whipped Lebanon Valley 27-12.

Also Look Haven sank Mansfield 13-7. Courtland defeated East Stroudsburg 19-13. Johns Hopkins dumped Swarthmore 19-16. Haverford licked Union 19-13. Clarion beat Slippery Rock 20-14. Shippensburg whipped Kutztown 26-6. National Aggies defeated Gaudaud 20-0. St. Vincent edged Indiana 7-6. West Chester whipped Millersville 26-13. Hofstra topped Wilkes 13-6. Lyncome beat Geneva 6-0. Edinboro lost to Case 19-0, and W. and J. collected its seventh straight defeat when it was submerged by Waynesburg 50-13.

On Sunday Scranton beat Kings 20-0.

G-Burg Soccer
Team Loses 2-1

The Gettysburg College soccer team dropped a 2-1 decision to Wilkes here Saturday.

In the opening quarter Marsden kicked the Bullets' goal. Wilkes also scored in the opening frame and tallied the winning boot in the third period.

Bob Davies' outfit, now 2-6, meet Western Maryland here Thursday.

BISONS TRAIL BY ONE POINT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Buffalo Bisons are finding it mighty tough to dislodge the Providence Reds from first place in the American Hockey League.

The Bisons hung up their fourth straight victory and their second in as many nights over the Hershey Bears with a 4-2 decision last night, but they still trailed the Reds by a single point today.

The Reds held on to the top spot by thumping the Pittsburgh Hornets 6-1.

The Springfield Indians moved into fourth place by beating the Cleveland Barons 4-2 in the other game.

A goal by Ed Slowinski midway through the final period broke a 2-2 deadlock and the Bisons added an insurance marker on Larry Wilson's shot into the empty cage with 9 seconds remaining.

4-Goal Barrage
A 4-goal barrage in the second period carried the Reds to their triumph. Jim Bartlett, rookie forward, paced the Providence attack with two goals while the Reds' high scoring line of Zello Toppazzini, Paul Larive and Camille Henry added two more o' boost to season's output to 31.

The Indians came from behind for their triumph after Jackie Gordon had put the Barons ahead 1-0 at 5:16 of the second period. Buddy Boone tied the count at 11:10. Then Graham Hastings and Walt Atanas came through to give the Indians a 3-1 lead at the end of the session. Both teams scored single goals in the finale.

Bullets Are Humiliated 36-0 By Inspired Delaware Team; Three Local Gridders Hurt

Heralded throughout the grid season as probably the finest team in the history of the school, Gettysburg College suffered a humiliating defeat 36-0 by aggressive and hardcharging Delaware University Saturday afternoon at Newark before 7,000 fans.

Co-captains Sheldon Yingst and Frank Gagliardi called the toss of the coin in a meeting of the captains of the two teams prior to the battle but from then on the Bullets were never in the game. To make matters worse, Gagliardi is in the Gettysburg College infirmary nursing two broken ribs, and Yingst and his understudy, Jack Ridinger, were so badly injured they may be sidelined for Gettysburg's final two games.

So complete was Delaware's domination, that Gettysburg's deepest penetration was to the Delaware 12 on a Jim Soltesz-Frank Capitani pass on the last play of the first half. Embarrassing enough, two Delaware defenders permitted Capitani to catch the pass, and then nailed him in his tracks.

Coach Dave Nelson had his Blue Hens sky high for the Bullet invasion. It was the opinion of many that on Saturday afternoon Delaware was at it peak. If the Newark club was after revenge for last year's 14-13 Bullet win, it received it in large doses.

Gettysburg won the toss and elected to kickoff to take advantage of a high wind. Ward booted to the end zone and Jim Zaiser returned to the Delaware 20. In 17 plays, the Blue Hens drove to the Bullet nine where they had first down and goal. Moneymaker in two running plays and Andy Wagner in one advanced the ball to the three from where Bob Hooper tried to pass to Allen in the end zone but it was incomplete and Gettysburg took over.

Hens Get Safety
Mike Duka gained two through center. Gagliardi fumbled but Hendley recovered for the Bullets. On third down with seven to go, Gagliardi faked back to pass and then attempted to roll out, but the Delaware defenders rushed the Bullet quarterback and he was tossed deep in the end zone by Harvanik and Allen for a safety, and a 2-0 lead.

That was the beginning of the rout. The remainder of the scoring went like this: Wagner scored 3:18 of the second quarter on a one yard plunge and Hooper's placement was made it 9-0. Hooper, on an option play, kept possession and crossed through his own left tackle from five yards out in 8:28 of the second period. Wagner, on a double reverse, streaked through the left side of

SAINT JOSEPH WILL OBSERVE SPECIAL WEEK

Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, is observing American Education Week this week by featuring the role of Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton "in the development of Catholic education in the United States." Mother Seton, foundress of the Sisters of Charity in America, began the nation's first parochial school in 1810 of which Saint Joseph College is an outgrowth.

Featured this week will be a series of three displays on "the evolution of Catholic educational institutions from their earliest stages. The first of the series will account the establishment of the first Catholic normal school and its curriculum. The second display, with its array of report cards and character ratings dating from the time of Mother Seton's Academy, will provide an interesting contrast to the pupil-grading system of today. To highlight the extension of Catholic education in the United States, the third display will trace the growth of seven teaching orders of religious which claim Mother Seton as their foundress."

Library exhibits will feature the handwork of the Academy students in the early 1800's. They include a sampler, work basket, slate, candle snuffer, small spectacles and a writing case.

Panel Will Explain Message

On Friday a panel composed of Senior education students will be held at 11:25 a.m. in DePaul auditorium. Miss Mary Frances Kane, Palatine Bridge, N. Y., panel chairman, will explain President Eisenhower's message concerning the observance of this week and will explain the meaning of education.

Miss Constance Ehrsam, Alexandria, Va., will trace the growth of

DEAR COMMITTEE MEMBERS, CANDIDATES AND INTERESTED REPUBLICAN WORKERS:

The eyes of the world are on Adams County and will scan the election returns here this year.

Will the President return to his home county that has not repudiated his Administration? You and I have the answer to that question in our control and on our consciences.

We live in the townships, the boroughs and the school districts of Adams County. We will be governed largely by the officers elected in our local communities. Let's elect Republicans.

But also let's not be fooled as to the broader aspects of this election. The Democrats want to win locally this year in order to grab the public purse next year. They know that a Democratic victory at President Eisenhower's home might turn the tide in the election next year.

We have the answer. If we get out the vote we will win.

We cannot afford to wait. We cannot afford to take chances.

We must work today and until 8 o'clock tomorrow, Tuesday evening, November 8.

Let's make Ike proud of us.

Yours for victory,

John H. Baschore

Chairman
Adams County Republican Committee

Stocks Continue Strong Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks paced ahead today in an active market in its third day of strong recovery. Most gains were small, but some leaders were up 1 to 2 points, and a couple of high priced issues were up 3 to 4 points.

Chrysler opened on a block of 5,000 shares followed by a block of 2,000 shares off 2 1/2 at 93 3/4.

Standard Oil (N.J.) opened on 3,500 shares unchanged at 144 1/2.

Among advancing stocks were American Airlines, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Du Pont (up 3 to 220 on 1,900 shares), Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Boeing, and RCA.

the public school system as begun by Horace Mann and Henry Barnard and will give a description of the American parochial school system.

Miss Barbara Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, will outline the "qualifications of the good teacher" while Miss Alhen Ehrensing, New Orleans, La., will sketch "the satisfaction to be gained in teaching." Miss Ehrensing will also touch on the experiences met in the course of student teachings.

Miss Veronica Merrill, Kingsport, Tenn., will conclude the panel by emphasizing the need for teachers today and by giving a picture of the specialized role the teacher plays in the education of the physically-handicapped or mentally-retarded child.

HONOR DR. FOX

remaining in the synod from the time of Dr. Fox's coming into the Mercersburg Synod, addressed the group briefly and spoke of the values derived from a long pastorate for both the minister and the congregation.

Gifts Presented

The Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, in representing the Gettysburg Ministerium, congratulated the congregation on the occasion of the unusual observance of the silver anniversary of a pastorate and pointed out the fine partnership existing over the years which was instrumental in "producing fruits for the Kingdom." He presented a gift to Dr. Fox in behalf of the ministerium.

Kenneth Hull, a member of the Special Anniversary Committee, then presented gifts from the congregation and consistory. Dr. Fox, in his response, thanked the congregation for its past cooperation and asked for a continuance as long as he remained pastor of the church. He commended the entire congregation but mentioned the names of Mrs. W. Preston Hull, Mrs. Louise Hoffman and Perry J. Tawney as examples of utmost cooperation in the performance of church duties.

Guests Introduced

Presented to the group were Mrs. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Fox Jr. and Henry E. Fox, the sons and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fox. Also introduced were neighbors of the Foxes, Mr. and Mrs. Stover A. Small and sons, Samuel and Michael; Miss Margaret Howard, Mrs. Charles E. Weikert and Mrs. Albert Partner. Members of the ministerium and their wives who were introduced were the Rev. Herman G. Steumple Jr., pastor of Christ Lutheran Church; the Rev. and Mrs. Clyde R. Case Transferred To Carroll County

A Frederick Circuit Court proceeding which started in equity for specific performance of contract and later went to law as a $30,000 damage suit has now been transferred to Carroll County Circuit Court for trial.

Dallas Sonny McNair, of Emmitsburg district, sued William G. McNair, of Carroll county; Robert W. McNair, of Adams county, and Scott T. McNair and Dula M. Welty, individually and as administrators of the estate of Scott Hiram McNair, well-known Emmitsburg district farmer.

Dallas McNair stepson of Scott H. McNair, says there was an agreement whereby he was to be left the estate of his mother and stepfather but the latter failed to keep the agreement, died, intestate and the estate went to the defendants.

The case was removed to Carroll county on motion for a change of venue filed by Sherman P. Bowers and Parsons Newman, attorneys for the defendants.

Members of the Adams County Ministerium were introduced. They were accompanied by their wives. Included were the Rev. and Mrs. Nevin R. Frantz, Arendtsville Reformed Church, and the Rev. and Mrs. G. Howard Koons, of the Reformed Church, Littlestown.

The Rev. Mark B. Michael, Fairfield, gave the invocation. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Frantz. Containers of white roses and chrysanthemums used on the guest table were gifts from Muselman's Greenhouse, Cashtown, and the Wayside Flower Shop, Gettysburg. Another gift was the donation of $25 to the Building Fund of the church in honor of Dr. Fox.

Congregation's Anniversary
The day marked the 165th birthday of the founding of the congregation and the 10th anniversary of the present building. Dr. Fox's record reveals that he baptized 324 infants and 27 adults; confirmed 258 and received 286 by letter; performed 237 weddings and conducted 305 funerals.

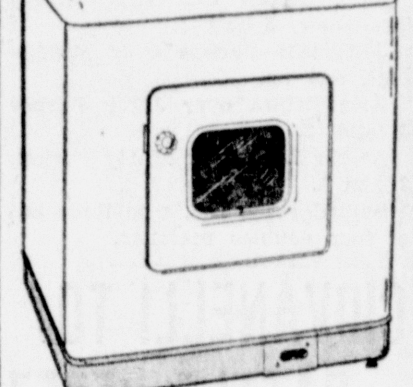

During the worship service the Senior Choir presented "The Lord Is My Light," Parker, for the gradual and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," Galbraith, during the offertory. Miss Alice M. Snyder, organist, presided at the console.

In addition to Attorney MacPhail and Mr. Hull, John D. Teeter was a member of the Special Anniversary Committee. The consistory includes, as elders, John E. Brown, Donald Rebert, J. Gilbert Eiker, Jennings B. Collins, Mr. Hull and Mr. Teeter, and deacons, David Eckert, Mr. MacPhail, Lawrence McGlaughlin, Melvin Little, Robert E. Sheads Jr. and John B. Kendeheart.

FOURTEEN DIE IN PENNSYLVANIA OVER WEEKEND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fourteen persons died in accidents throughout Pennsylvania over the weekend.

Eleven of the fatalities occurred on the state's highways, four in one accident. One person perished in a fire, another was killed in a fall from a ladder and the accidental discharge of a shotgun claimed the life of another victim.

A two-car head-on smashup at Chambersburg Saturday night resulted in four deaths. State trooper John H. Wilson identified the victims as Robert Robinson, 22, of Shippensburg, driver of one car, and his passenger, John R. Shaffer, 23, of Chambersburg; Eileen A. Allen, 18, of Upper Strasburg, the other driver, and her passenger, Sgt. Lewis D. Ratcliffe, 20, of Pearisburg, Va., stationed at Letcher's Depot, Chambersburg.

Accidentally Shot
John W. Bagshaw, 49, Huntingdon was killed Sunday by the accidental discharge of his shotgun as he attempted to remove it from his automobile.

Walter L. Chitteseter, 57, Falls Creek, was killed Sunday night when he was struck by an auto on Route 6 near Houlette.

John Chismar, 70, Johnstown, died Sunday night when an auto in which he was riding plunged down an embankment two miles south of Windber on Route 160. Eight persons were in the car at the time including the driver, William J. Homla, 36, Rockingham, were unburt.

In Philadelphia, Constance M. Crane, 14, en route home from a dance was killed in a two-car collision early Sunday morning.

An auto rolled onto a sidewalk in Pittsburgh Saturday night, and killed Matthew Kornick, 45.

Dies In Crash

John Charnak, 62, Philadelphia, died Saturday when the car in which he was riding was struck by a tractor-trailer.

Wilfred G. Horner, 45, of Suburban Pittsburgh, a bus driver for the Pittsburgh Railways Co., was killed Saturday in a fall from a ladder.

At Bedford, a trailer-truck crashed through a guard rail and careened down an embankment Saturday on the Pennsylvania Turnpike killing Howard L. Ramsey of Box 120, Mercersburg.

Richard J. Krauth, 10, of Meridan, near Butler, Pa., was killed Friday night on the Meridan-Renfrew road by an automobile operated by Harry W. Grant, 67, Meridan.

Harry W. Wertz, 71, a retired Pennsylvania Railroad employee, burned to death Friday night in a fire in his two room home at West Loop, near Hollidaysburg.

When the Mayflower started from England for America with the Pilgrims, there were 102 people on board.

FAVORS SECOND BIG 4 MEETING

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today he would favor another meeting of the Big Four government chiefs if needed to achieve the unification of Germany and sustain the spirit created at their Geneva conference last summer.

But Wilson added on his return from Geneva it is "too early" to tell whether another summit meeting would be necessary to continue progress toward world peace.

"Maybe some progress will be made at the current meeting toward unifying Germany that will not be clear to everyone," Wilson said.

Asked whether the "spirit of Geneva" still lives, he said: "There is something much bigger than the Geneva spirit, because people in all countries hope that their leaders will be smart enough to insure that there will be no war."

Wilson also was asked about the effect of Arab-Israeli clashes in the Middle East on the foreign ministers' deliberations at Geneva. He replied that European leaders were "used to such crises," adding they are "anxious but are taking the situation in the Middle East in their stride."

Wilson, noting this was his first formal conference with Russian leaders, said they were "very affable, determined and they seemed to know where they are going."

Gordon Gray, assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, has flown to Geneva to fill in for Wilson on the U.S. delegation.

PERON IN PANAMA

PANAMA (AP)—Juan D. Peron, ousted President of Argentina, arrived here last night. He talked freely about Argentine politics but he was vague about his future personal plans.

Peron flew here on the fifth day of a trip to Managua, Nicaragua, from his original Paraguayan exile.

Peron, traveling in a Paraguayan air force plane, indicated he would continue his trip today or tomorrow.

The Truth Must Be Known

My opponent must know that the matter of the judge's retirement has been an issue from the beginning of this campaign. It was in response to many inquiries and to bring the truth before the voters that the matter was made public.

My understanding is that under an opinion of the Attorney General any detailed information regarding an employee's own retirement is not public information until he has retired. Until then such information can be made public only by the employee.

My father did not accept pension or retirement, and I will carry on that tradition.

There are a number of issues in this campaign. One of the main issues is whether or not the administration of justice in two counties should rest in the hands of one man for a generation. The answer in this judicial district to this question has always been No.

VETERAN ROCKS UP "STORM" ON 113TH BIRTHDAY

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Walter W. Williams began a week-long celebration of his 113th birthday Sunday breaking in a new rocking chair.

"He's really been rocking up a storm," said Mrs. Jeanette Cleveland, a close friend. "He loves that new rocking chair."

Williams, oldest of three living veterans of the Confederate Army, held open house at the home of one of 12 living children, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles.

Williams will be 113 November 14. The annual family celebration will be next Sunday at Williams' farm home near Franklin, 75 miles northwest of Houston.

He did not like the idea of having to stop rocking when the daughter and his second wife, Ella Mae, 84, wanted to pose for photographers with a big birthday cake.

Eyes Still Sparkle
Williams' blue eyes still sparkle but he could not see the United States and Confederate flags, the Confederate soldier and artillery piece on the cake.

He has been completely blind over a year.

"He and mother came to Houston last week for their annual physical examinations," Mrs. Bowles said. "The doctor said both are in good condition, considering their age. He said their blood pressure and hearts are good. But best of all, Dad is responding to treatment for his eyes. He says he can see bright lights and the movement of his hands now."

Born in Avawoma County, Miss., November 14, 1842, Williams served in Hood's Brigade as a forage master.

Other Confederate soldiers still living are William A. Lundy, 108, Laurel Hill, Fla., and John Salling, 108, Slant, Va.

LEADER WANTS QUICK MOVE ON CAR INSURANCE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader today favors an eventual program of compulsory automobile insurance in Pennsylvania but wants quick action by insurance companies to expand their coverage to protect persons injured or killed by uninsured drivers.

Unless insurance companies expand coverage voluntarily, Leader said he "will take the necessary steps to see that it is done."

The governor also called yesterday for a study of the uninsured motorist in the state to be conducted by Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith and Secretary of Revenue Gerald A. Gleason.

"In Pennsylvania, 104 per cent of all drivers are not insured," Leader declared, adding:

"In a sampling made of accidents in Pennsylvania it was found that 1 out of every 13 involved an uninsured driver and on the basis of this fact plus other statistical data it seems a system of compulsory automobile insurance is necessary."

Two Protective Courses
But until a compulsory program is adopted, Leader said two courses are open to protect "innocent automobile drivers, passengers and pedestrians."

They are:
Strict enforcement of present financial responsibility laws.
Encourage insurance companies to promote the sale of additional coverage to provide drivers, their families and pedestrians financial benefits "if injured by an uninsured driver."

Smith said that to date, four insurance companies have requested

Littlestown

LITTLESTOWN: Dr. Bernard Hogg, history instructor at Shipensburg State Teachers' College, will speak at the Armistice Day program in Redeemer's Reformed Sunday School next Sunday at 9:30 a.m. The program will be in charge of the Young Men's Class, taught by Dr. Richard M. Phreaner.

Next Saturday, Redeemer's Junior High Youth Fellowship will make and sell salted peanuts.

A rededication service of the recent renovations in the church will take place in Redeemer's next Sunday at 10:30 a.m. A brief congregational meeting will be held Nov. 20.

Mrs. Ralph R. Ruggles Jr., E. King St., will be hostess to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Centenary Methodist Church on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. A. J. Gibson and Mrs. Paul R. Randall will assist as hostesses.

Grace Lutheran Sunday School will serve its annual turkey and oyster supper to the public on Tuesday beginning at 4 p.m. in the parish hall, Two Taverns.

The Ever Willing Sunday School Class of St. John's Lutheran Church will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Henry Barnes, near town.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial VFW Post will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the post home.

Mrs. Richard M. Phreaner, Mrs. Mervin LeGore and Mrs. Melvin Shambrook will serve as hostesses at the meeting of Redeemer's Ladies' Aid Society Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the social hall.

The Fellowship and Attendance Committee, George P. Smith, chairman, will be in charge of the program at the meeting of the Littlestown Rotary Club on Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. at Schottie's Hotel.

and received approval to sell the additional coverage in Pennsylvania.

Most Drivers Insured
The insurance commissioner said that New York insurance companies recently adopted the selling of such additional coverage with rates ranging from $2.50 to $4 per $10,000 liability coverage for one person.

But Smith noted that about 96 per cent of New York drivers are insured thus giving a lower premium rate than would be possible in Pennsylvania. He said the Pennsylvania rate ranged between $4 and $5.

WILL REMAIN WITH 2ND HUBBY

CANONSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Lore Supinsky says she has no intention of returning to Germany to live with a former husband who was declared legally dead before she married John Supinsky, a Canonsburg bus operator.

Mrs. Supinsky's first husband, Walter Choroba, returned from a Russian prison camp last month. A Nazi SS soldier in World War II, captured on the Russian front, he had been held prisoner for 10 years.

The Supinskys were married at Nuremberg, Germany, in 1952 while Supinsky was on army duty. They returned to this country the following year.

Mrs. Supinsky said she learned her first husband was alive a year after her second marriage. She said she received a notification from the Red Cross.

At their Canonsburg home, Mrs. Supinsky said:

"I really have no decision to make in this matter. Johnny is my husband. I want to stay with him and my children."

The Supinskys have two daughters—Barbara, 6, and Patricia, 6 months.

ADMITS KILLING GRANDFATHER

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 30-year-old Altoona man admitted early today that he killed his 92-year-old grandfather with a pipe, then put his body in a water filled quarry, Dist. Atty. Park H. Loose reported.

The grandson, Glenn A. Leamer, led state police to the quarry, where the body of Samuel Leamer was pulled from the water, the Blair County official added.

The district attorney said the slaying occurred last Wednesday night in the aged man's home at nearby Frankstown. He declared that robbery apparently was the motive, adding:

"He (the grandson) has confessed that he killed his grandfather about 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 2, by hitting him over the head with a piece of pipe. He then placed the body in the truck of his auto, transporting the body to an old abandoned quarry hole where he dumped the body into the water."

Loose said young Leamer, unemployed and the father of four children, will be charged with murder.

Leamer, a retired lumberman, had lived alone since his wife died four years ago.

H. A. TRICHON DIES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Herman A. Trichon, 65, founder and retired president of the Clearfield Sportswear Corp., Clearfield, Pa., died yesterday at Graduate Hospital.

Trichon was head of the firm for 42 years before his retirement early this year.

Survivors include his widow, the former Clara Kaplan; a son, Edward N.; a daughter, Sonia; and two sisters, Mrs. Bess Solomon and Mrs. Ida Nussbaum.

Pre-Election Tension Rises In Hot Municipal Campaign Parties Eye Vote As Tipoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 1955 municipal election campaign wound up today with local issues dominating final pleas for voter support.

A special election for the state Senate and two judicial contests involving senators could have an important bearing on the headline political division in the Republican-controlled Senate.

But the lack of statewide contests took the edge off attempts by both parties to inject into local campaigning the records of the GOP administration at Washington and the Democratic regime in Harrisburg.

Look Toward Presidential Campaign

There was no doubt, however, that both Republicans and Democrats will eye tomorrow's balloting for a tipoff on what is ahead for the crucial 1956 presidential campaign.

The polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. for Pennsylvania's more than 5 million voters. The weather is expected to be a factor in the number of persons casting ballots in the usually light turnout municipal elections.

The senatorial and two judicial contests could cause the Senate Republicans to (1) lose their constitutional majority of 26 needed to pass or defeat a bill; (2) increase their majority to 27 votes or (3) retain their present 28 votes. Democrats have no chance of taking control of the Senate.

Leader Record Made Issue

The record of the Leader administration and the tax controversy in the legislature was made a direct issue by the two opposing candidates for a Senate seat in Luzerne County, Democrat Peter M. Margie and Republican William H. Davis.

The contest, to fill a vacancy created by the death of Sen. Patrick J. Toole (D-Luzerne), may provide a clue to voter sentiment on the popularity of Gov. Leader's administration.

In other contests involving senators, Sen. Donald P. McPherson (R-Adams) and Sen. Eustace H. Bane (D-Fayette) are seeking election to the Common Pleas Court in their counties. If they win, they would have to resign their Senate seats before taking the judicial posts the first of the year.

Senate Possibilities

The possibilities in the three Senate situations include: Republicans

1. Should Davis win in Luzerne County and McPherson lose in the Adams-Fulton judicial contests, McPherson would retain his Senate seat and Republicans would have 27 votes.

2. Should both Davis and McPherson win, McPherson would resign from the Senate the first of the year, leaving the GOP status unchanged at 26 votes.

3. Should Davis lose and McPherson win, Republicans after the first of the year would be reduced to 25 votes, one less than necessary to pass or defeat a bill.

The Democratic situation respecting Margie and Bane is somewhat similar, except 24 votes is the maximum Democrats can achieve.

No Pattern Indicated

Thousands of county, city, borough and township offices are at stake. But there isn't any single pattern on the type of offices to be voted upon.

Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, predicted "a clean sweep" in his party's bid to take over the courthouses, of which three out of four are now in the hands of Republicans.

Barr's week-end statement also criticized U.S. Sen. James H. Duff as "a poor excuse as governor and is an even sorrier flop as U.S. senator."

To Reveal Liability

"The Republicans will find out Tuesday just how big a political liability he really is," said Barr. Duff, who is seeking re-election to a second term in 1956, has been campaigning in behalf of local GOP candidates in the current election.

Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, also issued a statement in which he said a Republican vote would make sure that "we uphold honesty and economy in government in Pennsylvania."

Finds Strong Principles

After a recent tour over the commonwealth, Horst said, he found "a remarkable groundswell to hold fast to time-tried Republican principles as practiced by the Eisenhower administration in Washington and rejected by the Leader administration in Harrisburg."

Apart from local issues, voters also will ballot on a proposed constitutional amendment which in effect would permit the legislature to increase pensions of state employees and teachers already in retirement.

Attracting national attention is the battle for the Philadelphia mayoralty post, won by Democrats from a long-entrenched GOP organization four years ago.

Seeks Succession

Richardson Dilworth, 57-year-old district attorney, is seeking to succeed Mayor Joseph S. Clark, as the Democratic candidate. His Republican opponent is 35-year-old W. Thatcher Longstreth.

In addition to Philadelphia, 28 of the state's 47 third class cities will elect mayors. Twenty of them now are headed by Republican mayors.

Forty-nine judgeships are up for election.

The tax impasse in the 1955 Legislature may also play a role in contests where ten legislators are seeking local offices ranging from county commissioner to city councilman.

DEM NOMINEE DIES SATURDAY

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Harry L. Goodhart, a Democratic candidate for Lancaster County commissioner at Tuesday's election, died Saturday night at his home here. He was 65.

Goodhart was one of two Democratic nominees for the post. The other is Herbert R. Wagaman. The Republican candidates are G. Graybill Diehm and Charles Pearce.

Goodhart was defeated by Kendig C. Bare in the 1949 race for mayor. Goodhart had conducted a fruit and produce business here for 41 years.

Office Appointed

David R. Eaby, chairman of the Lancaster County Democratic committee, said that if Goodhart is elected the office would be filled through appointment by the governor upon recommendation by the local Democratic party.

If both Democratic candidates are elected, the governor will fill the one vacancy by appointment upon recommendation of the executive committee, he added.

If Goodhart alone should be elected, Eaby said, the governor will fill this vacancy, but under local party rules, the executive committee will recommend the losing candidate to the governor for this appointment.

Local Journalists Join Honorary Frat

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Seven newspapermen from York, Lancaster, Reading and Harrisburg, are new members of the Central Pennsylvania chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity.

Initiated yesterday at the recently organized chapter's first group of new professional members were:

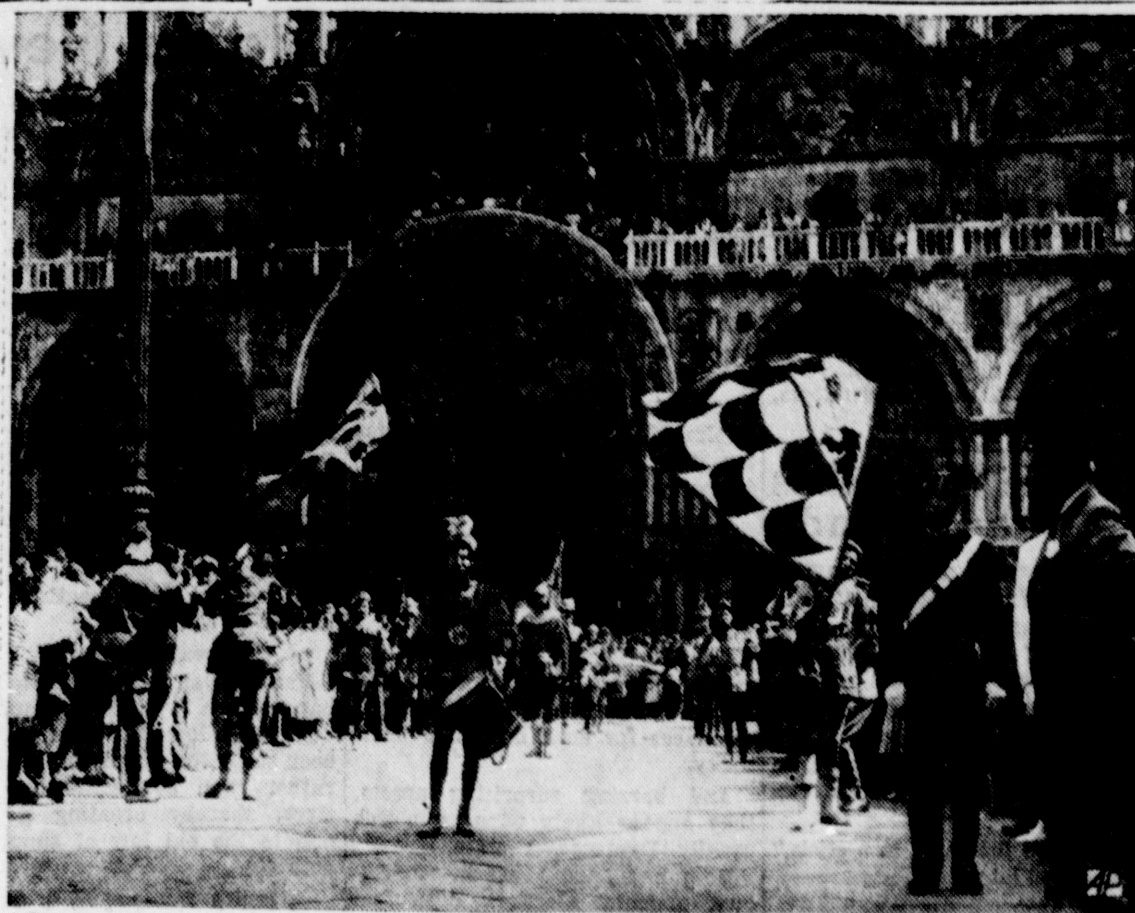

D. Philip Young, publisher of the York Dispatch; L. U. Leslie, Harrisburg correspondent of the Associated Press; George Draut, editorial writer for the Harrisburg Patriot-News; Joseph A. Meyers, York Dispatch; Harry F. Stacks, managing editor of the Lancaster Intelligencer Journal; H. Wesley Stillwell Jr., assistant editor of the Reading Times; and Robert J. Weirich, associate editor of the Reading Eagle.

missioner, died Saturday night at his home.

His death raised the question of what will happen if he is elected. The Lancaster County Democratic committee said, however, the law provides that if Goodhart is elected the office would be filled through appointment by the governor on the recommendation of the local Democratic party.

ing all year so that it is a habit when roads are slippery.

Over-controlling is one of the chief winter driving errors, according to the Council. Starting, stopping and changing direction too suddenly causes many damaging and sometimes fatal skids.

Since power brakes and power steering make it easier to lock the brakes or over-steer as the result of a panicky reaction to an emergency, the Council's booklet recommends that drivers practice using a deft touch on such devices.

Automatic transmissions and hydraulic drives give good starting control on ice and snow, the booklet states. However, if your car has "dual range" transmission it is recommended that the lower or "S" range be used on slippery surfaces.

Here are some tips from the booklet on starting, stopping and steering:

STARTING — Adjust the seat correctly so your foot rests fully and easily on the accelerator. Feed gas slowly and smoothly to avoid spinning the wheels. With a gear shift car, start in second. Don't let the clutch pedal out fast. It does no good to lower tire pressure on modern tires. Snow tires may help, and tire chains definitely will.

STOPPING — Learn the technique of pumping your brakes. Apply the brakes quickly (lock them) for an instant, and as quickly completely release them for an instant. Repeat this on-off action rapidly to a full stop. The effect is to give short intervals of maximum braking, alternated with short intervals of effective steering when wheels roll. This pumping method is especially important with power brakes.

Council tests have shown that reinforced tire chains cut braking distances in half on both snow and ice. The reinforced tire chain has projecting teeth or cleats on the link of each cross chain. They not only give the best stopping and traction performance, but also provide excellent resistance to side skids.

Some snow tires give substantial advantage in loose snow and slush, but they are not much more effective than regular tires for ice or hard-packed snow, the booklet advises.

STEERING — Turn your wheel carefully to take advantage of the maximum steering power of your tires. If you should over-steer, straighten a bit and then turn again. This can be compared to the "pumping" technique recommended for brakes. If you start to skid, turn your wheels immediately in the direction of the skid, but don't over-compensate.

A single copy of the helpful booklet on safe winter driving may be obtained free by writing Committee on Winter Driv-Hazards, National Safety Council, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 11, Ill.

The railroads of America and the United States Post Office Department are again this Christmas season cooperating in a joint effort to speed the delivery of what is anticipated to be the largest Christmas mail load in the history of the department, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today.

"The Association of American Railroads," Summerfield said, "is emphasizing to all its member railroads the vital need for publicizing the 'Mail Early' campaign incident to the handling of the heavy Christmas holiday mails."

"The Post Office Department has, in turn, advised the post-

EDITOR FEARS NEWS SECRECY IS CONTAGIOUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for the American Society of Newspaper Editors expressed concern today over what he called the mushrooming of "new categories of withheld information" in government agencies.

The ASNE's views were given to a House government operations subcommittee in a prepared statement by J. R. Wiggins, executive editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald and chairman of the ASNE Freedom of Information Committee.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), has been set up to inquire into government policies and practices on giving information to the public.

Information Policies Discussed Wiggins was one of a panel of press, radio and television leaders invited to today's opening public hearing for a general discussion of information policies and difficulties encountered in getting information from federal agencies.

Wiggins said the nation's editors are "disturbed by the withholding of information in many areas of government, local, state and federal, legislative, executive and judicial."

"We think it due to the size of government; to the emigration of governmental power from publicly operated legislative and judicial agencies to secretly operated administrative agencies; to the declining faith in the wisdom of the people which is an aspect of this generation's counter revolution against free institutions; to the requirements of national military security which have increased steadily since World War I."

Newsmen Accepted Secrecy Because they acknowledge the need for secrecy where national military security is clearly involved, Wiggins said, newsmen generally have accepted the necessity for classification of security data as "top secret," "secret," and "confidential" as provided for in an 1953 executive order signed by President Eisenhower.

But, he said, the secrecy thus permitted "has proven to be infectious and contagious" and matters which officials themselves admit to be nonclassifiable for security reasons "have been withheld."

TODAY IS BIRTH DATE FOR U.S.S.R.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today celebrated the 38th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution with a massive parade which played down Soviet military might.

No new guns, armor or aircraft were displayed in a brisk 20-minute arms demonstration, the briefest observers ever witnessed on this holiday.

While the ceremony steered clear of emphasis on military potential, there was no lack of pomp on this biggest holiday in the Soviet Union.

Rail Official Has Opened - Closed Case

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—A railway official told a civic club that with the introduction of air conditioning on trains, cars could be redesigned because you no longer had to open and shut the windows.

Then he added it's not true that air conditioning was installed "because, as some people said, you couldn't open or shut the windows, anyway."

Nebraska Woman Has Tea With Tornado

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—When a tornado struck Scottsbluff, Miss Phyllis Rutland of Harrow, England, was all alone in the home of T. L. Green where she was a guest.

She admitted she had no idea what Americans did under such circumstances so she reacted in British fashion and brewed a cup of tea.

"It's always the thing in a crisis," she explained later.

Tennessee Student Makes Triple Play

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Frank Harrington Jr. became a father, a college graduate and an officer in the Air Force within two hours.

At 8 a.m., Mrs. Harrington gave birth to a daughter, their first child. At 10 a.m., he received a bachelor's degree from the University of Tennessee and at the second lieutenant.

Although lobar pneumonia used to kill one in five patients who contracted it, the use of antibiotics has drastically reduced pneumonia death rates.

The marchers filed past in sunny but cold weather. Heading the party of top leaders were Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev. Defense Minister Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, who took the salute, made a mild opening address.

Some spectators thought the Soviets were bending over backward to support their contention they are peace-loving, unaggressive and friendly and thus help their own position at the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Geneva.

KENTUCKY GIRLS GRAB SPOTLIGHT IN GOVERNMENT

By MALCOLM PATTERSON FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Two women are making history in Kentucky politics.

Miss Mary Louise Foust and Mrs. Thelma L. Stovall are running for top state offices on the same major-party ticket — Democratic.

Sometimes in the past, either the Republicans or Democrats had a woman candidate for state office on its ticket. And a few have been elected.

A Kentucky First But this is the first time that either party has had two women nominees for such offices in Kentucky.

And barring surprising upsets, they appear likely winners in this usually Democratic state.

Both had hard races in the August primary election. Both feel their success demonstrates the growing importance of women's role in politics and government. And they say women — men, too, for that matter — should take more interest in elections and governmental operations.

Best Four in Race Mrs. Stovall beat three men and a woman for the nomination for secretary of state.

Miss Foust, an attorney and certified public accountant, defeated two men for the Democratic auditor's nomination. Should she win in November, she'd be the first C.P.A. to hold the office.

"I didn't enter the (primary) race because I was a woman, expecting to win because of that, but hoped to win on my qualifications," she says.

Former Student At Jefferson Miss Foust, who declines to tell her age, lives at Shelbyville, between Louisville and Frankfort. She got her law degree in 1943 from the Jefferson School of Law in Louisville and qualified as a C.P.A. in 1953. She says she thinks "it's significant" that she and Mrs. Stovall won their races.

Mrs. Stovall, 36, has been secretary of the Tobacco Workers International Union Local No. 185 for 11 years, and is in the last of three successive two-year terms as representative to the legislature

Stamp News

By SYD KRONISH The Associated Press

The sudden revolution in Argentina posed a problem for neighboring Paraguay.

Early this year President Juan Peron made an official visit to Paraguay. To honor the occasion, the host nation printed a special set of nine stamps, five for regular mail and four airmails. Each stamp had the same design — portraits of Peron and Paraguayan president General Alfredo Stroessner.

Now Peron is living in exile in Paraguay and the stamps are still valid for postage. How long this anachronism will continue is a matter of conjecture.

Create A Rarity

Paraguayan postal officials perhaps figure it would be more feasible to allow the stamps to be used until the supply is exhausted rather than confiscate the adhesives, thereby creating a rarity due to the old law of supply and demand.

Issues Famous Sites Set

A set of six pictorials depicting famous sites has been issued by France. The 6 franc red shows a view of the city of Bordeaux, 8 franc blue — Marseille harbor, 12 franc gray, blue and brown — Valentre, famed medieval fortified bridge (built in 1399), 18 franc black and blue — Uzerche in Correz noted for its Romanesque church and medieval fortifications, 25 franc brown — medieval fort from a Louisville district.

Her husband, Raymond, is a stock clerk at a tobacco factory. They have no children. She took a business course after graduation from high school and two years' law through an extension course.

Points To Women's Responsibility Mrs. Stovall says she believes "women are waking up to their responsibility for obtaining the type of government we get. It's as much a woman's responsibility as it is a man's."

"Politics is not a dirty word. A good politician is one who gives good government. There's politics in our day to day living, in that one must know how to get along with others. This is nothing more than politics in a sense," she says.

New Catalogues Published Two new stamp catalogues (1956 editions) are now available to the public.

The H. E. Harris catalogue — Stamps of the U. S. Possessions and British North America — contains 144 pages and 1,497 illustrations. Prices are quoted not only for singles (both mint and used) but also first day covers, mint sheets, plate blocks and other specialties. Included as a bonus feature is the U. S. Stamp Identifier, 12 illustrated pages telling how to distinguish between rare and common stamps.

"The New American Stamp Catalogue" is considered one of the most important new publications for collectors in many decades. Some of the interesting items are: Realistic market values for stamps, the story behind each stamp, commemoratives, how to catalogue your collection correctly and the value of confederate issues.

Stamps Made Of Aluminum Hungary has issued one of the most unusual stamps ever printed, reports the New York Stamp Co.

To honor the 20th anniversary of its aluminum industry, Hungary issued a stamp made of aluminum foil! The aluminum was pressed on glued paper with the rear side gummed for postal application. The 5 forint air mail stamp is of a previous design — a plane flying over a factory.

To Honor Human Rights Day

Stamp notes . . . The United Nations' fourth commemorative stamp of the year will honor Human Rights Day and will be issued on Dec. 9. The denominations are 2 cents, 3 cents and 8 cents.

First day cover collectors are reminded to send their envelopes and remittances to the U. N. Postal Administration prior to Dec. 9 . . . A special 30 ore red stamp has been issued by Denmark to commemorate the centennial of the death of Soren Kierkegaard. A profile portrait of Kierkegaard appears on the stamp . . . Australia has announced that the 2 shilling blue stamp issued in December of 1954 to honor the upcoming Olympic Games has proved so successful that it is being reissued this year in green.

in the Highway Department now than we had when we took the department over in January. We are not going to waste the traveling public's dollars on attaining this win."

Judge Sheely Speaks

Judge W. C. Sheely, a candidate for re-election, declared, "We in America pride ourselves in not placing limitations on public office holding by position in life. I have continuously asked that this campaign be kept on a high level because of the dignity of the office involved, but apparently my opponent and his party could not find a basis for his running unless they used smear and rumor tactics. It seems funny that ten years ago when I was up for re-election I was nominated on both tickets; I was good enough at that time to represent both parties, but now the party that supported me 10 years ago is spreading all sorts of rumors and smears in order to win the election for their candidate. I leave it up to the voters of the Adams-Fulton District. If they think I am better qualified of the two candidates, then I solicit their support on Tuesday."

Congressman James Quigley, just returned from a six weeks tour of Europe, said, "As a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association for quite a few years, I had occasion to talk to attorneys throughout the state. It was a unanimous opinion among these attorneys that your Judge Sheely had and has no superiors in any county bench in the state."

Atty. Teeter Speaks Candidate for district attorney, Daniel Teeter, declared, "Not only is the Democrat slate a representative section of all classes of Adams Countians, but it is also representative of the entire county geographically."

Other candidates introduced at the rally by John S. Rice, toastmaster, were Mrs. Laura Cratin and Arthur Weikert, candidates for county auditor; Herbert Miller, prothonotary; Romaine Pittenturf, register and recorder; George Kane and Edward Sneeringer, county commissioners, and Earl Guise, associate judge.

FRAUD IN THE HEAD

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—During the opening of a new motel, a broom slipping from the hand of one of the water show performers. It struck a spectator on the head.

"Fall down, fall down," another spectator whispered. "You can collect insurance on this."

The "victim" only gave the tipster a dirty look. He happened to be Sammy Green, who owned the place.

CONSUMERISM BOOSTED

CHICAGO (AP)—Seven U. S. business executives are scheduled to visit the Far East—from Tokyo to Christchurch, New Zealand—to sell the American free enterprise system.

They will present the story of "Consumerism" under the sponsorship of the National Sales Executives International which believes it is the best answer to Communism.

Dr. Harry F. Baughman Speaks Wednesday Evening At Dedication Program Ceremonies Of Gettysburg High School Auditorium Wing

The new wing of the Gettysburg High School will be dedicated at ceremonies Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the new auditorium making the completion of an $825,000 construction program begun in February, 1954. Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary, will be the guest speaker. Refreshments will be served by PTA members at an open house in the cafeteria following the dedication.

The evening's program will open with the musical selection, "Fandango" by the Gettysburg High School band under the direction of Robert Zeigler. Rev. Robert Knechel, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, will offer the invocation. Paul Grove will lead the Senior Choir in the singing of "Father Most Holy," "Victoria" and "Your Land and My Land."

R. S. Noonan, York, general contractor for the new building, will present the key and the presentation of the building will be made by Alfred B. Hamme, York architect.

School Authorities Present

Acceptance for the Gettysburg School Authority will be made by Arthur E. Hutchison, chairman of authority; acceptance for the school board by Dr. Ralph D. Wickerham, president; for the schools, Dr. L. C. Keefauver, superintendent, and for the high school, Guile W. Lefever, principal.

Special school gifts will be presented to Mr. Lefever for the high school. Mrs. Edith Baker, alumni past president, will present a grand piano from the Alumni Association and Jo Ann Sherman, two upright pianos from the class of 1954. Two trophy cases will be presented by Fred Herring from the class of 1951 and Ann Holoka, president of the Senior student council, will present a school flag. Margaret Teeter, president of the Junior Student Council, will present a bulletin board. Miss Margaret McMillan will give an American flag in behalf of the Manor of Maske Chapter, Daughters of American Colonists, and Mrs. Donald Sheely will present a lectern and chairs for the stage from the PTA.

Dr. Ralph D. Heim, professor of religious education at the seminary, will give the dedicatory prayer. The program will close with singing of the high school alma mater by the school choir, the National Anthem by the high school band, choir and audience, and benediction by Rev. Charles Held of the Mt. Joy Lutheran parish. Open house will follow.

90 Years Old

The Gettysburg High School, with a present enrollment of more than 1,000 students, began in the old High School more than 90 years ago. It was the first union school in Gettysburg and offered a course of studies as far as the ninth grade. In 1896 the high school students moved to Meade School. What is now the Lincoln School was built in 1909 as the borough, high school. An auditorium section was added in 1915.

Lefever Only Principal

Guile W. Lefever was the first principal of the high school at its present location and continues today in the same capacity. He has been a member of the high school staff for more than 35 years. Born in Mechanicsburg, he received his early education in the schools of Cumberland County and at York County Academy. He was awarded a B.S. degree by Gettysburg College and received a B.S. and M.S. degree from Gettysburg College. He has done graduate work at Pennsylvania State University and Columbia University. He is a graduate of the Shippensburg State Teachers College.

Besides being principal of the high school he is president of the Gettysburg Recreation Association board of directors, treasurer of the TKE Fraternity; past president of the Southern Convention District of the Pennsylvania State Education Association and a past president of the National Association of Secondary School Association Principals, Pennsylvania Branch.

Annex Added In 1936

Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver, superintendent of Gettysburg schools, became chief administrator in 1926 at the same time Lefever became principal.

As the enrollment expanded the north classroom annex was added in 1936 to meet the needs of the students. A gymnasium was included in those building plans to meet the growing sports program. The wing containing the cafeteria and the agricultural department was added in 1950 at a cost of $250,000.

Bids for the latest addition to the high school wing were opened by the Gettysburg School Authority at the September 1953 meeting of the Gettysburg School Board. Seven bids were submitted for the general construction contract which covered erection of the new auditorium and 15 classrooms and extensive changes in the present building to tie in the new unit and utilize the present auditorium space as a library. The contract was awarded to the Noonan firm, York.

The new wing, frequently called the "auditorium wing," was completed late this summer, just before the opening of the school year. The three-story wing is furnished with the finest modern equipment for teaching including acoustical tile ceilings throughout the building, concentric ring incandescent lighting fixtures, gas-fired furnace and asphalt tile floors.

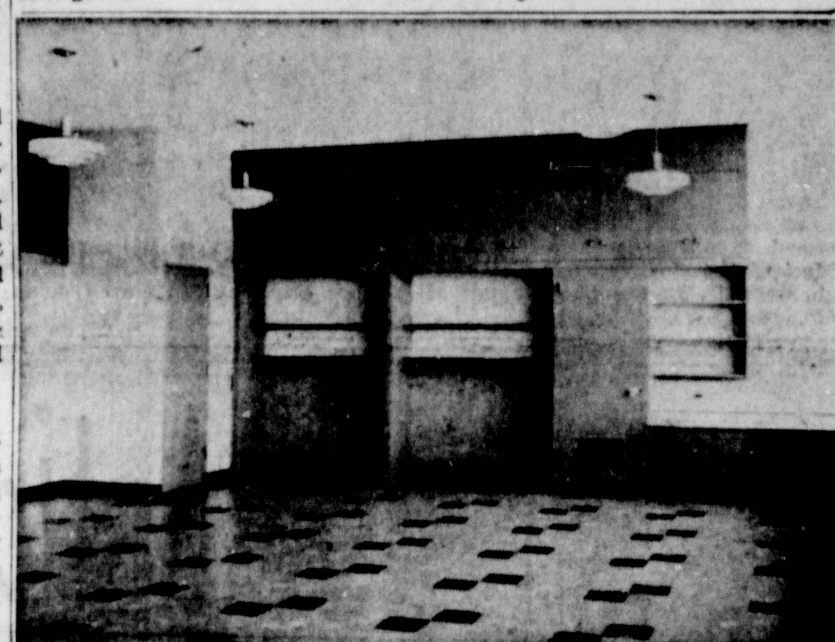

Modern Equipment

Large windows provide ample light for classrooms, the walls of which are painted in pastel colors of rose, mauve, chartreuse yellow and turquoise. Desks are of aluminum and light oak with space at the side for books and student equipment. A loud-speaking system enables the principal to speak to the teacher in each classroom.

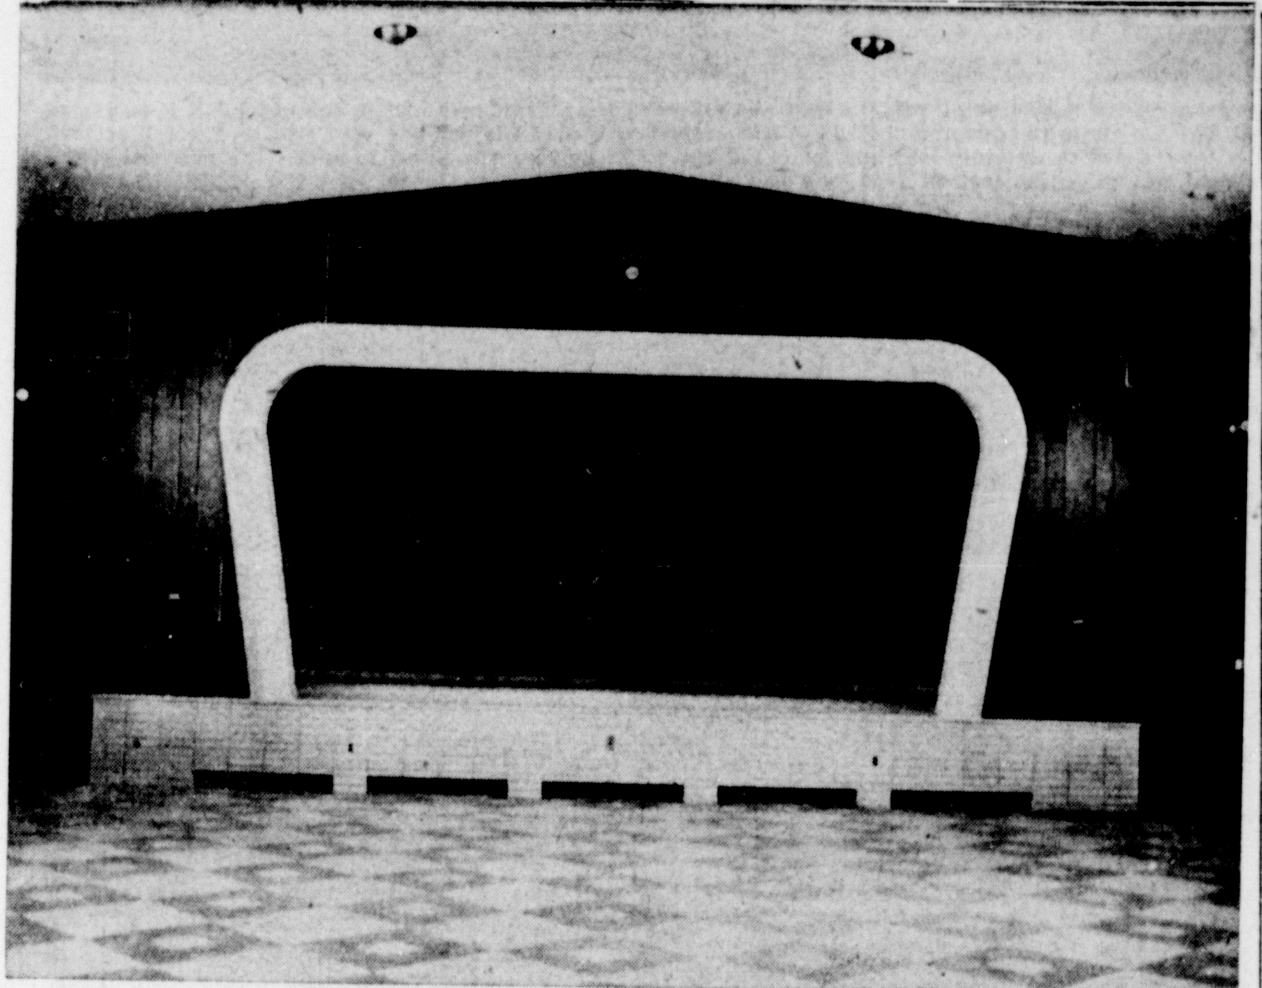

A three-story glass tile window is used to light the stair well. The green and coral-colored auditorium (Continued On Page 5)

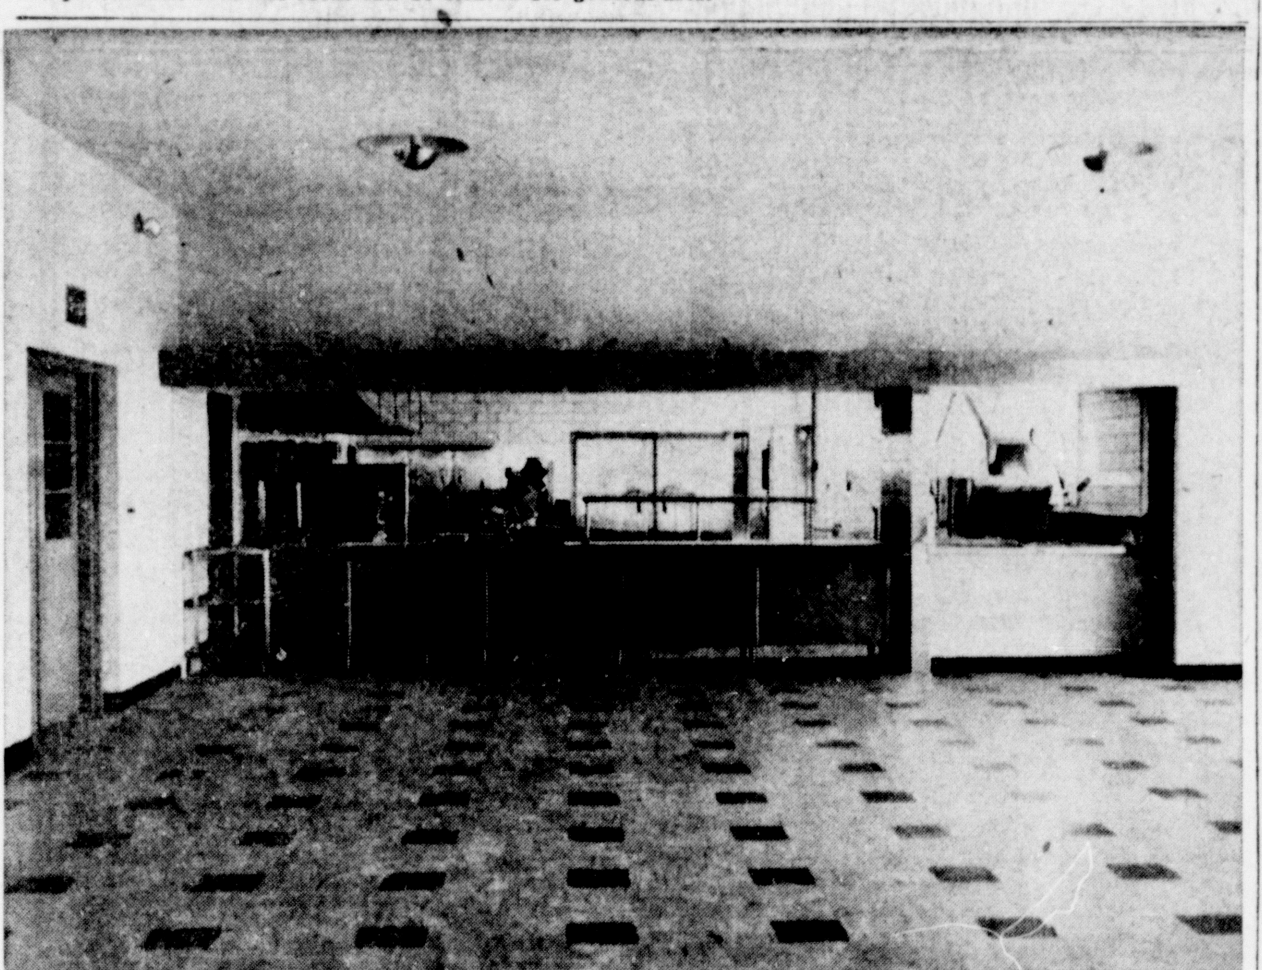

This view of the front of a typical classroom in the new Keefauver Building indicates one of the striking features visitors will notice at the "open house" . . . the attractive color combinations used in wall and floor decorations. Three-color combinations are used in each classroom with the gray tile floor brightened by a patterned color that blends with the wall decoration. Basic colors are primrose yellow, old rose, ivory and pilgrim gray. The trims are in empire green, fawn gray, cocoa brown and lime green.

Space for pupils' wraps, a closet for the teacher's use, and at the right a drinking fountain and lavatory or wash basin are standard fixtures at the rear of each classroom in the Keefauver Building. The door at the left leads to a toilet that is included in each room used by the younger grades. Eight overhead electric fixtures assure adequate light to supplement that coming from the outer "wall of windows" in each room.

Redwood paneling, Tiber gold stage trim and carmel blue in the floor decorations combine to make the Keefauver Building's 300-seat auditorium one of the most attractive spots in the new structure. It measures 48x50 feet and is located just off the central lobby on the east side of the building. An electric clock is centered above the stage for which curtains and drapes have been secured since this photo was made. Movable seats are provided so that the room can be cleared for general uses.

One of the most modern kitchens in this area is the boast of the Keefauver Building, shown above from the adjoining cafeteria dining room. Finished in tile and stainless steel and painted in primrose yellow and Swedish red, the kitchen is complete with gas range, dishwashers, electric vegetable peeler, slicing machine, freezers, refrigerators and pedal turnouts for water spigots. The kitchen and cafeteria are in the middle of the building along its west side, opposite the auditorium.

Renovation of sections of the old high school building was tied in with the new construction and this attractive new library now occupies the site of the old 620-seat auditorium. Conference and work rooms have replaced the old stage and under-balcony space. At the desk in the foreground with a student is the librarian, Miss Susan Wentz.

Not quite all of the student body was present when the above picture was made but there are enough seats and some to spare in the new 1,500-seat auditorium. The school student body outgrew the old 600-seat auditorium years ago. School directors say they had community needs in mind when they planned the big new hall, largest in the town.

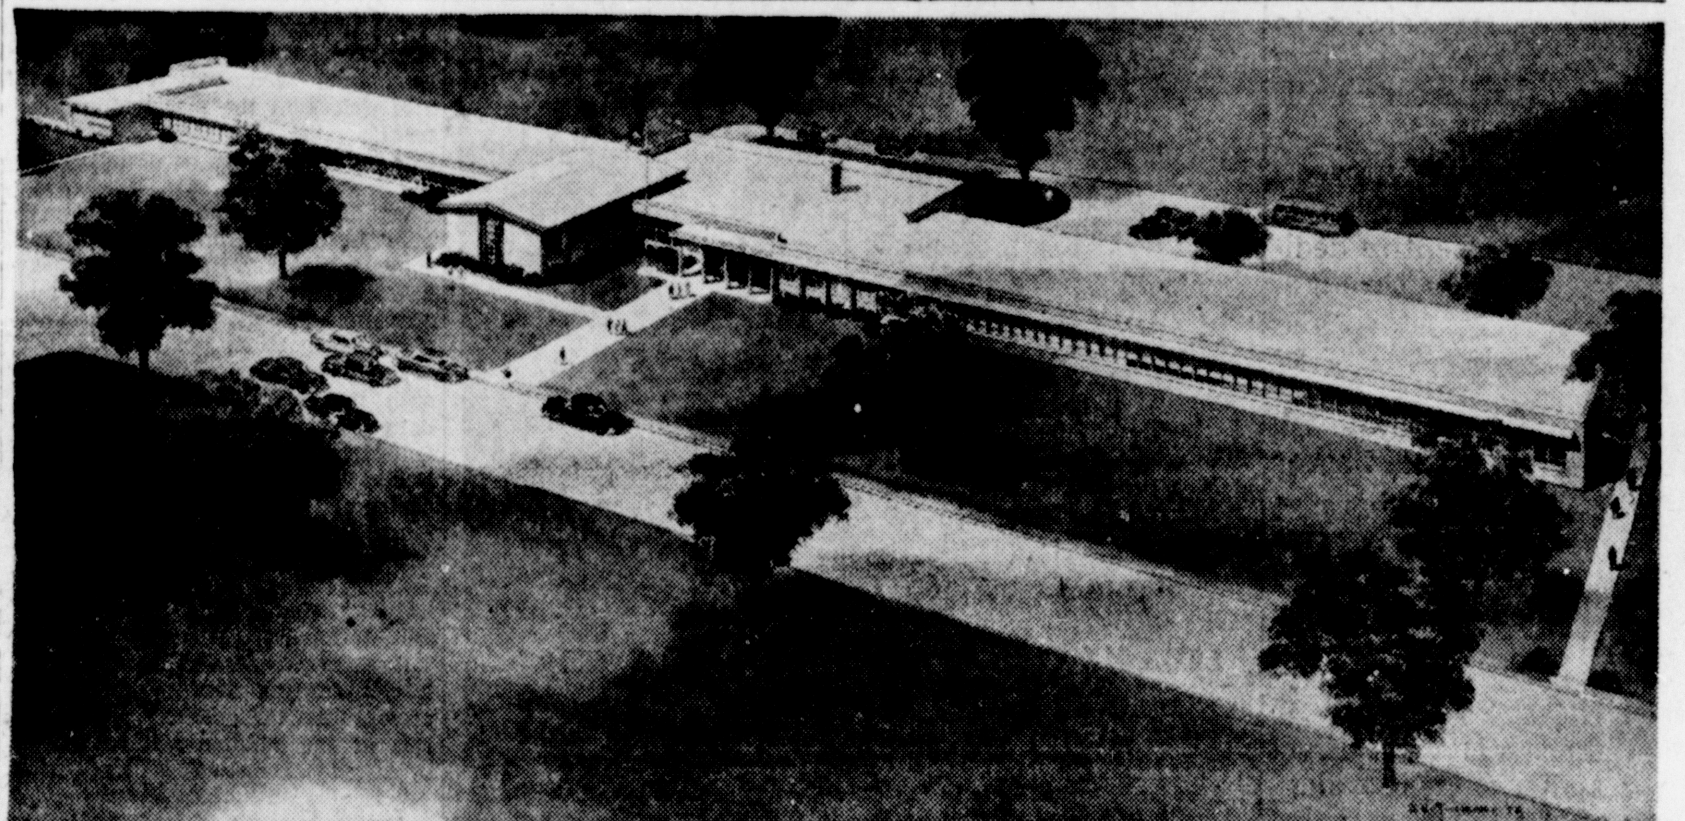

This aerial view shows the present Gettysburg High School plant, athletic field and extended tract to its rear and in the upper left a section of the big new Keefauver Elementary School. The V-walk in the foreground leads to the original section of the building used first in the fall of 1926. The gymnasium, shop and cafeteria units were added to its south end and an initial classroom unit on the north to which the new classroom-auditorium unit was linked. The school band was using the football field for a drill when this aerial photo was made.

TO GETTYSBURG HIGH SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY

THIS ADDITION SUBTRACTS PROBLEMS!

Each time a new addition is made to a school . . . each time a new building goes up . . . each time improvements are made in facilities . . . and each time the status of the teacher is elevated, the problems of a community are lessened.

We believe that education is a community project. It is everybody's business. We congratulate the community of Gettysburg on this new addition to your fine high school. We enjoyed our work as general contractors for this job.

CONTRACTORS — ENGINEERS

New Elementary School, To Be Dedicated Tuesday At 7:30 P.M., Is Tribute To Long Educational Service Of Dr. L. C. Keefauver

TUESDAY evening at 7:30 o'clock Gettysburg will dedicate the first school it has built in more than a century restricted to use by elementary youngsters.

The new Keefauver School is the first "real" elementary school since the log cabin school on Carlisle St., built in 1834. The High St. School, first union school constructed in the town, also was to house high school students. Similarly, Meade School was built partially as a high school and later the Lincoln School was built specifically as a high school and operated as such for a number of years.

Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver, Gettysburg superintendent of schools, for whom Keefauver School was named, will preside at the dedicatory service to be held in the auditorium at the new structure on E. Confederate Ave.

Speaking System Used

A loud speaker system will carry the entire dedicatory program throughout the school to the gathering expected to overtax the 300-seat auditorium. The overflow crowd will hear the program in other rooms or hallways.

A concert will be presented from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock by the elementary school band under the direction of Robert G. Zeigler. Mrs. Barbara B. Strickhouser will direct the audience in the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Rev. Harold V. March, pastor of Memorial Evangelical United Brethren Church, will give the invocation.

After the Sixth Grade Chorus, directed by Mrs. Strickhouser, sings "God Of Our Fathers," Clair S. Buchart, of the Buchart Engineering Corp., general contractors for the structure, will present the building to Dr. Ralph D. Wickerham, president of the Gettysburg Joint School Board.

MacPhail Main Speaker

Following "America The Beautiful" by the Sixth Grade Chorus, Attorney John A. MacPhail will give the main address of the evening. The singing of "America" by the audience will conclude the program.

An open house will follow, with teachers and administrators on hand to completed. That amount also includes books, training aids and all the other articles needed for the conduct of the school.

Construction Costs

Contracts called for $474,500 for general construction, $74,860 for heating and ventilation, $39,964 for plumbing and $32,721 for electrical installations. During the building, $18,185.24 was added for improvements and changes made during construction. H. N. Bange, Hanover, did the heating and plumbing work. O. H. Hostetter, Inc., Hanover, was the builder.

Designed to house 600 students, the school had 640 youngsters clamoring for space in the one-story structure on its opening day this fall. The school board, with the new structure completed, has already begun thinking about construction of a similar school within a few years as the enrollment grows.

Located on a 23-acre plot turned over by the Federal government in exchange for land given for battlefield purposes, the new school is located east of the Gettysburg High School. A highway, constructed over school land, connects the two buildings. The land on which the Keefauver School is built directly adjoins previous school board land.

Plan Of Unit

The new structure includes 18 regular classrooms, two special education buildings, an all-purpose room, health rooms, teachers' lounge and cafeteria. Two automatic gas-fired boilers provide heat. The temperature and ventilation are thermostatically controlled in each room. All primary rooms are self-contained, with each having its own sanitary facilities. The other rooms have hot and cold water and drinking fountains only.

Asphalt tile flooring and acoustical ceiling are used throughout the building. Large glass areas admit natural light evenly to the rooms and modern concentric ring incandescent lighting fixtures provide light on dark days and at night.

The health unit provides office space for the nurse, rest cots for pupils, and facilities for medical and dental examination.

Public Address System

A public address system enables the principal to contact any teacher, or all of the teachers, at any time. In addition, any teacher may contact the office over the public address system simply by flicking a switch which permits her to talk through the system to the office.

A corridor runs the length of the building. It is done in Abbey rose above neutral shade glazed tile. Three color combinations are used in each of the classrooms. In each room the gray tile flooring is brightened by various patterns of tile that blend with the wall decoration. Basic wall colors are primrose yellow, old rose, ivory and pilgrim gray. The trims are in empire green, fawn gray, cocoa brown and lime green. In the auditorium, the blue trim is trimmed with blue spruce contrast with redwood paneling. The stage walls in the auditorium are Tiber gold trimmed in cream. Seven hundred gallons of paint were used in the building. The colors were selected by Buchart's interior decorator and approved by the planning committee of the school board.

Modern Equipment

The cafeteria has a tile and stainless steel kitchen. Colors used in painting are primrose yellow and Swedish red. Gas stoves, dishwashers, electric vegetable peeler, slicing machine, freezers, refrigerators and pedal turn-ons for water spigots make the kitchen completely modern. The kitchen and cafeteria are in the center of the structure on the west side of the building, opposite the auditorium which also serves as an all-purpose room.

The 40 by 50-foot auditorium will seat more than 300, and is located off the lobby on the east side of the building. It also serves as a play room for the youngsters during inclement weather.

Classrooms contain large bulletin boards of a cork substance so that particles can be easily tacked to them and, with one exception, green porcelain on steel "blackboards." The exception is a room originally designed as a kindergarten room which had radiant heat. Increased size of the classes led to its use as a classroom and installation of a blackboard from the old High St. School.

Built-in Cloakrooms

Classrooms also contain built-in cloakrooms and storage and shelving along the wall as an integral part of the room.

DR. LLOYD C. KEEFAUVER
Superintendent of the Gettysburg
Public Schools

Comfortable, sturdy furniture has been provided in the Keefauver Building classrooms. Above the green "blackboard" at the front of the room the teacher has used a strip of tackboard to display bright pictures. Partly obscured by the American flag above the door is the speaker for the intercommunication system that links each room with the office of Principal Richard A. Folkenroth.

This huge but compact and intricate heating plant supplies room-controlled heat for every part of the new Keefauver Building. The huge boilers and the maze of pipes, valves, controls, some of them accessible only from the laddered catwalk above the gas-fired boilers, are housed in an excavated section at the middle of the 20-room building. The walls of the spotlessly clean boiler room are primrose yellow. Provision is made for converting the plant to burn oil in emergencies.

For their untiring efforts and their splendid cooperation in the planning and construction of the new Keefauver Elementary School, we extend our heartiest congratulations and best wishes to the members of the Gettysburg Joint School System and Gettysburg School Authority. Today's pupils and those to come will be forever grateful for the fine facilities which they have been given.

In this pleasant, well-lighted cafeteria pupils at the Keefauver Building seat 25-cent school lunches daily. The modern, fully-equipped kitchen can be seen at the rear. The kitchen and dining room can be separated by a folding, plastic partition that cuts out kitchen noises. The cafeteria seats more than 250 persons.

This is a view of the front entrance of the Keefauver Building, facing E. Confederate Ave. A tall flagpole stands near the entrance. The windowed, metal doors lead into the lobby at the center of the building from which long classroom corridors lead to the north and south.

part of the heating unit covers.

Keefauver School is built across the top of a hill that was "spread out" to meet the needs of the school. Workmen using huge bulldozers leveled off the top of the hill, pushing the top down along the sides to provide an almost level area for the structure. Grass has been sown around the school. A long, sweeping asphalt road leads to it, and, beyond the school, provides a basketball court for the youngsters.

Much in evidence are bicycle stands to handle the large number of "bikes" on which youngsters travel to and from the school. Each day 22 buses pull into the school.

Original Joint System

Keefauver School partially replaces 19 schools scattered throughout the area embraced by the Gettysburg Joint School system. Since the system was established, 16 one-room, one two-room, one three-room, and one-eight-room schools have been closed.

The original joint school system was organized in July, 1948, with Cumberland, Freedom, Highland and Straban Twp. and Gettysburg Borough as members. Mt. Joy has been a member since 1951. Franklin Twp. is also a member, but for high school purposes only.

The elementary school enrollment in grades one through six has increased from 850 to 1,123 during the life of the jointure. With the establishment of the jointure plans were begun to close the one-room schools and bring the children in to Gettysburg, Meade, Lincoln and High St. Schools were used to capacity. Junior high school students were moved to the Senior high school building, and more space made. With the construction of Keefauver School, the High St. School, a 97-year-old structure and the first union school in the borough, could be closed. Thus, in a sense, Keefauver School provided the opportunity to carry out the proposed plan of putting all the children into larger and more modern units.

The school is named for Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver, 117 Springs Ave., who is now in his final four-year term as superintendent of the Gettysburg Joint School System. He plans to retire with the conclusion of this term. He has served the Gettysburg system for almost 30 years, starting as supervising principal in 1926. Prior to that he had been assistant county superintendent of schools. He has served as head of the local schools longer than any other person in the history of the school system here.

Honor Dr. Keefauver

When the time came to name the school, the directors decided on "Keefauver" to honor the educator for his long service to education in the county and community. Dr. Keefauver, who will be 65 in December, is a native of Mt. Joy Twp., a son of J.

William and Ellen Margaret (Conover) Keefauver. He attended Horner's one-room country school in Mt. Joy Twp. and graduated from the old Gettysburg Academy in 1911. In 1915 he was graduated from Gettysburg College with a Bachelor of Arts degree and later received his master's degree from the same institution.

A few years ago Gettysburg College conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

He has taken postgraduate work at both the University of Maryland and at Columbia University. He is a life member of the State Education Association and a member of the National Education Association and the National Society for the Study of Education.

Active In Community

He is a former president of the Adams County Tuberculosis Society, has been chairman of the Court of Honor of the Black Walnut Boy Scout District, is a former president of the Gettysburg Lions Club, a member of the American Legion through his World War I service, and has handled the annual American Legion essay contest for years. He is a member of the Masons, the Zembo Shrine, the Adams County Shrine Club and the Last Man's Club of the American Legion. He has served the Masons as a past master and has been a high priest for the Royal Arch Masons in addition to being a past commander of the Knights Templar. He is a member of Christ Lutheran Church here and has held various church offices.

Construction of the school called for many hours and months of service on the part of the Gettysburg School Authority

SENATE GROUP WILL CONDUCT PROBE OF G. M.

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—That economic giant straddling the continent, General Motors, will undergo a four-weeks' examination which may disclose a great deal about GM and perhaps a great deal about how the auto industry operates. Beginning tomorrow a Senate antitrust subcommittee headed by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) will hold hearings on GM. Witnesses will be GM executives, economists, and people who deal with GM.

O'Mahoney says this is not an investigation. One man who will be working with O'Mahoney on this case said the hearings are not an effort to show there is anything illegal about GM or its way of doing business.

Why then the hearings at all? The subcommittee says it wants to know how GM got so big. It wants also to find out what effect such bigness has on the economy. The subcommittee is not singling out GM for attention. It has questioned other automakers this year.

Is Largest U. S. Firm

The most startling evidence of

for the newspaper staff, the year book staff and an office for the English teacher.

There are offices for the superintendent, principal, business manager, assistant principal and two guidance officers. There are two boiler rooms and a cafeteria with a seating capacity of 600. The present capacity of the high school is 1,300.

The present school faculty includes 44 teachers. There are 134 students in the Senior class as compared to 17 graduates in the class of 1902 in the Meade School.

Over the years Gettysburg High School has won many honors. The Battlefield High School Chapter, Future Farmers of America, was listed in October as one of the leading chapters in the country. The Gettysburg unit was one of 57 chapters in the United States to be awarded the gold emblem of the national FFA at the annual convention in Kansas City. It was the only unit in Pennsylvania to receive the gold emblem.

Laurels were won recently by the home economics department. Miss Erika Kaseberg, 17-year-old Gettysburg High School Senior, was chosen Pennsylvania Apple Dessert Queen at a state contest in York last week. She had previously won the regional title. Her apple streusel pie won both events for her.

GM's bigness was its announcement in late October that its total sales the first nine months of 1955 were 9½ billion dollars and its profits 912 million.

Recent mergers in the auto industry—not involving GM—reduced the number of individual companies from nine to six and O'Mahoney has raised the question of whether some of these survivors may not go out of business, too.

But GM won't be a casualty. O'Mahoney summed up some of GM's business this way: "It produces more passenger cars than all the other five firms combined; it is by far the most important producer of auto parts and accessories; it is a principal producer of trucks, buses, diesel engines and locomotives; it is a major factor in the manufacture of refrigerators, stoves, air conditioning equipment, and other things; and it is the biggest supplier of goods bought by the government."

Will Probe Practices

While this is an impressive picture of the biggest corporation in history, O'Mahoney's committee wants to look into the practices of GM and other automakers with the dealers who sell their cars.

O'Mahoney said last week complaints have been received that GM and other producers forced dealers to buy unwanted cars, parts and accessories and even dictated the size and type of their business places, advertising, and accounting.

When O'Mahoney's group gets through with all this examination of the auto industry, what will it do with the information? Will it change anything? The subcommittee itself can't do anything except report its findings.

If it thinks there should be controls written into law over huge corporations, it can recommend that to Congress. But it would be a good guess—in a time of prosperity like this—that Congress would think quite a while before tinkering with something as big as the auto industry.

U.S. TAKES STEPS TO REDUCE ARMS, ATOMIC WEAPONS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—The United States will make a new effort this week to get Russia to join promptly in disarmament measures designed to make impossible a massive surprise attack by either of the world's great atomic powers.

Secretary of State Dulles, it was learned, will tell Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that agree-

Mrs. Laura Cease, eldest member of the society, observed her 76th birthday on Wednesday.

The December meeting will be held at the local church hall when a covered dish supper will be held, the secret sister revealed and gifts exchanged. Members present in addition to those already named were Mrs. Margaret King, Mrs. Besie Wolford, Mrs. Ruth Deardorff, Mrs. Louis Shulley, Mrs. Laura Cease, Mrs. Marion Sloat, Mrs. Wilmer Wetzel, Mrs. Ruth Spence. Guests included Rev. Steiner, Harman Spence, S. C. Donaldson and Mrs. W. C. Hollingsworth and son, Kenneth, Shippensburg.

ment on such measures—keyed to President Eisenhower's U. S.-Soviet aerial inspection plan—could be followed readily by other steps leading to worldwide arms reduction and control of atomic weapons.

Dulles is prepared to assure Molotov that while the United States considers aerial inspection an essential measure in preventing surprise attack, it is prepared to consider any other suggestions for action the Soviets may put forward.

Spirit Weakens

Meanwhile, a committee of Big Four experts seeking agreement on the lowering of Iron Curtain barriers to develop East-West contacts have found the "Spirit of Geneva" wearing thin.

Authoritative sources say three days of secret negotiations between representatives of the Big Three Western Powers and the Soviet Union have failed to produce agreement on any major point.

The Russians have rejected proposals for a freer exchange of ideas and information except on technical matters. They want Western scientists, engineers and agronomists to contribute their know-how to the Soviets, but they maintain other exchanges would be "dangerous interference" in Soviet internal affairs.

Reneged On Discussion

Big Three negotiators have turned down Russian demands to end the West's ban on the sale of strategic goods to the Soviet bloc and have refused to discuss a Communist "freedom of the seas" pro-

Island Offers Lazy Pleasures

ISLE ROYALE, Mich. (AP) — This untouched wilderness — jutting out of blue Lake Superior — is one of the few public sites in this country where one can wander without tripping over beer cans and spotting cigarette butts.

Instead the island's trails that winds through the primeval woods are littered with thimbleberries, clintonia, wild orchids and trillium. You don't see much of man because he's uncommon and most of the time is outnumbered by moose. For instance, only 2,830 people visited Isle Royale in 1952 while 41 million toured the entire national park system.

But then, there isn't much to do. All you can do is pull 10-pound lake trout out of the ice clear water, hike along paths framed by stately pines and birches, look for greenstones along Lake Huron, watch an eagle soar above or a family of mink at your feet.

The trip from Grand Portage, Minn., takes only a couple of hours. Available boats can carry only a few passengers per trip. And the island's two lodges can handle only 125 persons.

Leaves Couple Waiting At Altar

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — One of the things best remembered by Dr. James A. Jones Jr., new president of Union Theological Seminary here, is something he forgot.

A young couple stood at the altar in his church which was full of their friends. No preacher appeared to marry them. Phone calls to Dr. Jones' home and various hospitals failed to locate him. Another preacher was located and the wedding knot was tied. Dr. Jones said he was so engrossed in the difficulties of a family in his church that he forgot the time of the wedding.

"Those youngsters were good friends of mine," said Dr. Jones. "Fortunately, they still are."

Police Cuff Ball Fans For Speeding

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP) — Police-man John H. Olsson handed out two speeding tickets within an hour. Both drivers gave the same excuse — they were hurrying to a baseball game. "Absolutely no imagination," Olsson complained.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Drahn Jones, city public works director, and Henry Lewis, street superintendent, turned skin divers to inspect underwater sections of a pier. A professional diver would have charged $35 an hour and they said the city didn't have that kind of folding money to lay out.

STRESSES CHARM ANGLE, GROOMING FOR YOUNGSTERS

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

If you don't believe you can make a habit of good grooming, just force cleanliness on your youngster for a few weeks, and then drop the idea suddenly. Chances are your child will plead to have hands or face washed, hair combed and perhaps even shoes shined.

One mother with a young baby being cared for by an indulgent grandmother has this to say on the subject:

"Grandma couldn't face our little boys cries when she tried to wash his face and hands or comb his hair. So most of the time he looked as if cereal was growing on his face, although he took to his bath to which he was accustomed willingly. A new nurse came along and bango after a few days of soap, water and wash cloth, he was demanding to be washed of food particles even in the middle of his meal.

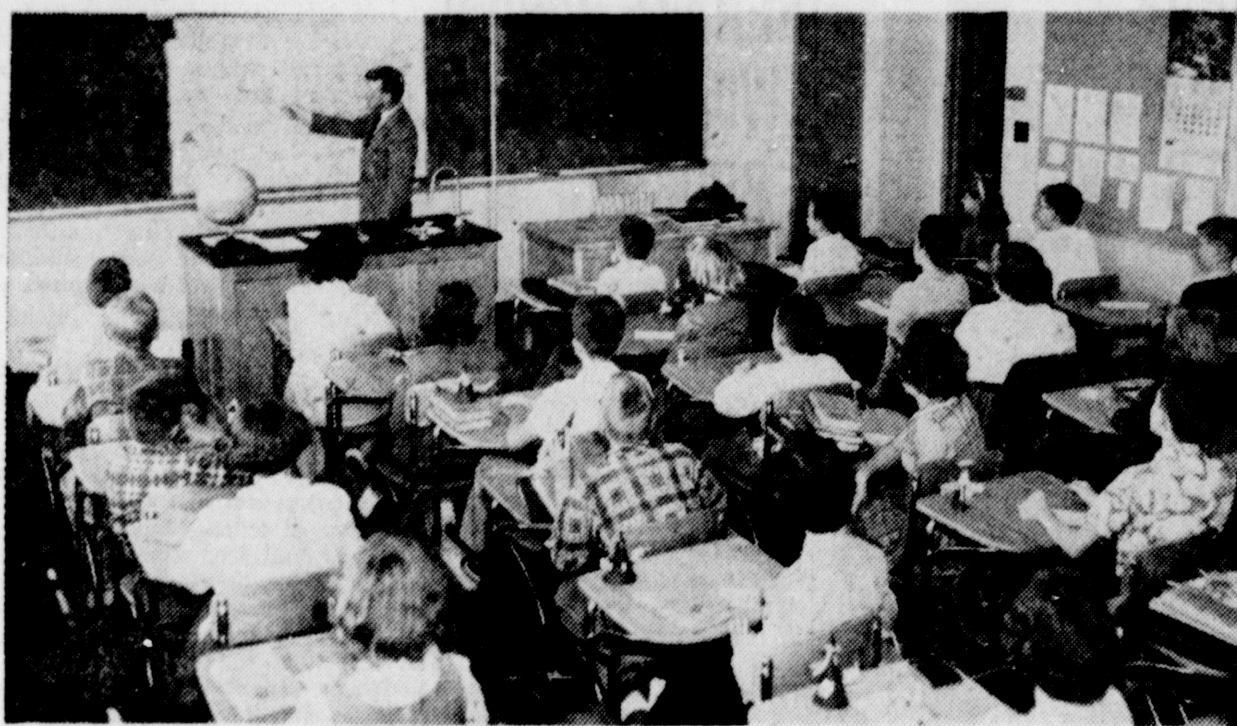

Little girls are even more fastidious when trained, mothers say. Looking pretty as a picture is what they strive for as soon as they know it pays off with compliments.

Emphasize Hair Care
One way to stress the charm angle in little girls is by attention to their hair. Frequent shampoos, daily brushings and even permanent waves made especially for tots will put her on the road to budding beauty.

Popular little girls have an all-year-round social season, what with birthday parties being the order of the day at their age, so the under-10 set may be trained to loveliness at this time without too much effort on Mom's part.

Little girl hair styles are easy to choose because there are no seasonal fads. Popular are the short hairdos with softly curled ends, a little ponytail or pageboy, depending on the youngster's features. Forehead bangs are kindergarten favorites although older children like hair brushed away from the forehead into soft neckline curls.

Tots' Permalents
Straight-haired youngsters may get just the right amount of curl with one of the new permaments created especially for children. One boasts a fresh air waving lotion which has no unpleasant odor and permits a 15 minute waving time, easy on an active child's nerves. Even so the child's extra-fine hair may be made manageable and pretty, and the curls should stay neat even after a long outdoor romp.

Ronald Bream is shown above instructing a Junior high class in geography in one of the classrooms of the new high school annex. Attractively decorated, the room is complete with blackboard, maps, tackboard (on the right), electric clock, intercommunication system, teacher's desk with water fixtures and new pupil chairs and desks. Last year the cafeteria and gymnasium had to serve as home rooms because of crowded conditions.

Gettysburg High School has a music room for the first time and Director Paul W. Grove is shown rehearsing the high school choir in the acoustically correct room in the new annex at the school. The piano is new too. Miss Shirley Kennel is the pianist.

Larger and newly-equipped home economics rooms were created in the building program at Gettysburg High School in the last year. Carefully planned in cooperation with Department of Public Instruction specialists, the new home "ec" rooms offer complete facilities for the homemaking courses required of all girl students. One section of the home economics department is shown above in the new school annex.

OFFICIALS PROBE FATAL SHOOTING OF YORK MOTHER

YORK, Pa. (AP) — An investigation was pressed today into what Dist. Atty. George W. Atkins said was the fatal shooting of a 32-year-old mother of six children by her 14-year-old son.

The woman, identified as Mrs. Mary Schmuck, of nearby New Freedom R. 2, was killed while walking home from a shopping trip with five of her children late Saturday afternoon, police said.

Atkins declared his office and state police of the York barracks were conducting an investigation to determine if the shooting was accidental.

Fired From A .22
He said the woman was killed by a discharge from a .22 calibre rifle held by her oldest son, Raymond Jr.

The lad was being held in York County Detention Home pending completion of the investigation, Atkins added.

Sgt. George Harleman, of the York state police barracks, said Mrs. Schmuck was struck by the bullet in the upper right portion of the back and died shortly afterwards.

Accompanied By Children
Harleman said Raymond and another brother, Clarence, 11, were walking behind their mother and three brothers and sisters — Roy

George, 9, Anna Mary, 7, and Mary Ann, 6, who were walking with Mrs. Schmuck at the time. Another child, Rosie, 3, was at home. The trooper said Raymond had borrowed the rifle from a nearby Glen Rock man about a week ago to go hunting, Raymond told police, Harleman added, that his mother had objected to his having the rifle.

OSHAWA, Ont. (AP) — Blond, statuesque Gladys Glad, one of the famed beauties of "Ziegfeld Follies" in the 1930s, is proving Broadway know-it-all guys can be wrong.

Formerly the wife of the late Mark Hellinger, Broadway columnist and Hollywood producer, she later married wealthy Arthur Gottlieb, producer of Canadian films for television.

"When Gladys and I were married, the Broadway wiseacres predicted that we would be split up in six months," Gottlieb said. "They said we were too temperamental."

Gottlieb and Miss Glad celebrated their seventh wedding anniversary on their 102-acre estate near Toronto.

Michigan Requires Car Crash Reports

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Under a new Michigan law any motorist who does $100 or more damage to another's car, regardless of whether anyone is injured, must make a report to the secretary of state. The new report is in addition to a police report required, as previously, in injury accidents.

The new law also requires a motorist to have insurance or be able to post security of $10,000 for one bodily injury claim and $20,000 for two or more claims. The old requirements were $5,000 and $10,000.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The burglars who lifted $450 from a cafe here carefully rang up a "no sale" on the cash register.

TITO WANTS RED STATES TO HAVE FREE ELECTIONS

BRIONI, Yugoslavia (AP) — Marshal Tito put his weight today behind the West's demand that Soviet-found satellite states of Eastern Europe be given their independence and freedom of action. As a leading statesman in the Balkans, he apparently has been asked also to use his influence for peace between Israel and the Arab states during a trip he is planning to Egypt.

These were the highlights of a seven-hour talk yesterday between the President of Communist Yugoslavia and U. S. Secretary of State Dulles in the dramatic setting of Tito's Adriatic Island retreat.

Tito took Dulles for a ride in his white speedboat to the nearby island of Vanga, which he uses for swimming and clambakes. There they had a heavy lunch, with Tito's young wife, Jovanwka, presiding at the bar.

Entertain Press
Then Tito played host in his palatial home for the first time to the large group of accompanying newspaper correspondents who strolled about a black marble reception room admiring the white and gold piano, oil paintings of nude cherubs and ladies, and a collection of ship models.

Sitting beside Tito, who later said he was in agreement, Dulles told reporters:

"We were of common accord in recognizing the importance of independence for these (East European) states, noninterference from the outside in their internal affairs, and the right to develop their own social and economic order in ways of their choice."

FORD STOCK IS MADE AVAILABLE TO THE PUBLIC

By WARREN BENNETT
NEW YORK (AP)—Stock of the Ford Motor Co., which revolutionized America with its mass production methods, is to be sold to the public after the first of the year.

The price and precise timing have not yet been set, but nearly seven million new common shares with voting rights will be offered. Financial analysts say it is expected to bring between 400 and 500 million dollars, indicating a price of $60 to $70 a share.

Announcement that Ford, richest private business enterprise in the world, would desert the ranks of family-owned firms was made last night. It came from the Ford Foundation, multi-million-dollar philanthropic trust set up by Henry Ford, who died in 1947.

The new stock will be offered by the Ford Foundation—not by the company.

Transfer 60 Per Cent
Henry Ford II, grandson of the founder and president of the Ford Co., has agreed with other Ford heirs to transfer 60 per cent of their exclusive voting control of the company to the new common stock, it was reported by H. Rowan Galtier Jr., Foundation president.

The other 40 per cent of voting rights will remain with the Ford family.

With the public sale of its stock, the company will have to disclose for the first time its assets and earnings, one of its most carefully guarded secrets for 52½ years.

Only last Wednesday, Ernest R. Breech, Ford board chairman, declared the company's 1955 earnings, before taxes, would surpass the firm's total earnings for the 21 years before World War II. Neither figure was revealed, however.

Three new classes of Ford stock will be issued, and, after stock splits, the company will have a total of 53,461,470 shares of stock.

One reason for the decision to let the public share in the company ownership and control is that no one pushes sale of new products with more zest than an enthusiastic shareowner. Ford management may have had that in mind when it agreed to reversal of the private ownership credo of founder Henry Ford.

In 1903 Ford had trouble rounding up a dozen backers who put up $28,000 in cash to start the company. In 1919 after some stockholders objected to his expansion plans, Henry Ford and his son, Edsel, bought the others out and the firm had since been a tight, family-held operation.

But new stockholders today can't expect the fabulous returns of those early investors. One Detroit school teacher, who paid $100 for a single share in 1903, received $95,600 in dividends over the next 16 years, plus $260,000 when she finally sold out her share.

A spokesman for the Ford Foundation said no details of the proposed stock sale or selection of underwriters has been worked out.

SUGGEST USING LIBERTY SHIPS CARRY COAL TO WEST GERMANY

By J. FRANK TRAGLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A large-scale plan is being discussed to take the wraps off a number of tied-up Liberty ships and use them to promote greater sales of United States coal to West Germany.

The proposal, according to a spokesman for the United Mine Workers Union (UMW), would be a non-governmental operation involving the UMW and the United States coal industry.

The spokesman told a reporter that names and details cannot be disclosed at present but that the plan—involving cheap ocean transportation to make overseas purchases of U. S. coal attractive—has been submitted to the UMW by a West German businessman.

The plan, the spokesman said, would have a multiple purpose:

1. It would help provide Germany with the amount and quality of coal it needs.

2. It would put United States coal in a more competitive position with coal mined overseas, including coal from Poland and other Iron Curtain countries.

3. It would aid the United States coal industry, which still has more than 100,000 unemployed workers even though production and sales have been up recently.

The UMW spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said the West German plan is similar to one proposed by John L. Lewis, UMW leader, some time ago. The difference, he said, is that Lewis' plan would have involved shipments to all of Europe, not just West Germany.

In substance, the West German plan is for the coal industry and the union to set up a company, obtain Liberty ships and transport American coal at cost.

No Shipping Profit
"There would be no profit in the ocean shipping of the coal," he said. "The only profit involved would be the normal one that the industry obtains through sales."

It's the shipping cost, he said, that makes it difficult for American coal to compete in Europe. A ton of coal selling for $4 in Pennsylvania or West Virginia might cost $30 by the time it reaches Germany, he said.

"As a result," he continued, "West German industry is buying some coal from behind the Iron Curtain."

"Expanding German industry needs coal. For example, there is an increase of 12 per cent a year in electricity consumption in West Germany, which means more coal is needed to generate electricity. And there is a need too for metallurgical coal, the kind that can be obtained only in this country."

He said the UMW favors the West German proposal, which envisages a 10 or 20-year program, but added that authorizing legislation by Congress probably would be necessary to put it into effect because it would involve international trade.

"But the plan itself is completely one of private enterprise," he said.

At least one automobile is owned by 71 per cent of U. S. families.

Gradual Settlement

Dulles said he and Tito also were agreed "the German question must be settled gradually, step by step."

It was evident, however, that they did not see eye to eye on all details of the German question which has deadlocked the Geneva foreign ministers conference. Asked by reporters about methods of settling the problem, the secretary said, "That's another question. We shall see."

Indicating they had made a wide swing through questions besetting the Middle East as well as Eastern Europe and Europe generally, Dulles said they also had discussed "how to go about a solution to the situation in the Near East" where Israel and Egypt have been exchanging gunfire.

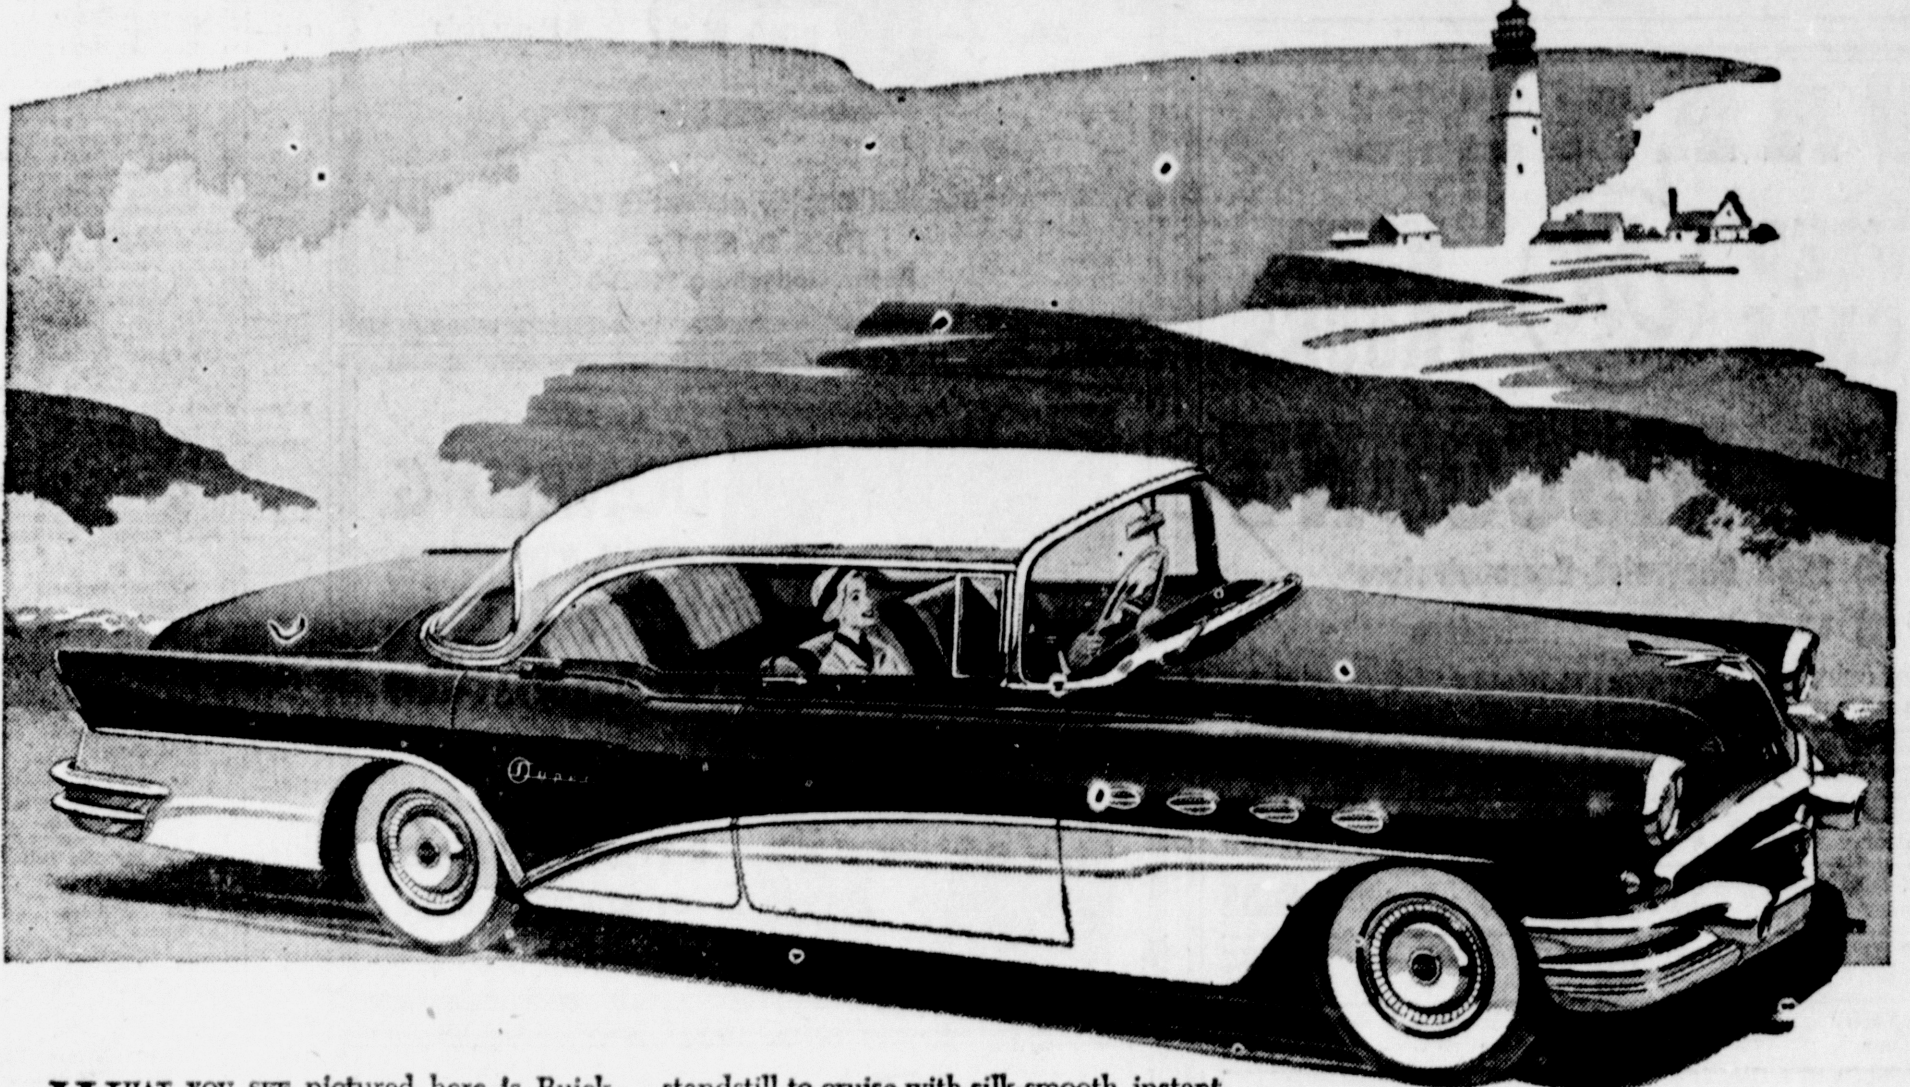

He added that this discussion was conducted "with particular regard for the fact that President Tito is going to Egypt to visit Col. (Premier Gamal Abdel) Nasser in December."

Tito had been reported planning to postpone his scheduled visit to Egypt in December because of the troubled situation, but this remark indicated Dulles had persuaded him to go ahead with the trip.

The 1956 Buick SUPER 4-Door Riviera

WHAT YOU SEE pictured here is Buick for 1956—and from the gleam of that "V" grille to the sassy slant of the tail fins, you can see it has no equal for gorgeous good looks.

But what you see from the curb is more than matched by what you feel at the wheel—and that's gospel.

For this Buick gets its zoom from a mighty 322-cubic-inch V8 engine lofted to a new record high in power and compression—and from a spectacular new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

What's new in the '56 Dynaflo is this: In the first inch of pedal travel—and not with wide-open throttle—your Buick moves from standstill to cruise with silk-smooth, instant and certain getaway.

But comes a sudden need for safety-surge action to get out of a tight spot—and you floor the pedal to switch the pitch of this airplane-inspired transmission. Instantly and smoothly, you're at full-power acceleration—a thrill beyond words.

There's a lot more we could tell you about these great new Buicks—about brilliant new interiors, a superb new ride with a safer "sense of direction," and new safety features everywhere you look.

But the best way to get the whole story of the best Buick yet is right at the wheel of one of these '56 beauties. So drop in this week and do just that.

Best Buick yet

ATTENTION Voters Of Adams County

In response to many persistent inquiries, here are the facts about a judge's pension and retirement.

- (1) My father, Judge Donald P. McPherson, never accepted a pension or retirement.
- (2) For the past seven years I have been eligible to join the State Employees' Retirement Fund, but I am not a member and I will not join.
- (3) There is no judge's pension today. To get retirement a judge has to join the State Employees' Retirement Fund like any other State employee.
- (4) The Judge's salary is paid by the State.
- (5) If an employee leaves State employment voluntarily he is not entitled to retirement unless he has served 25 years or is age 60. What he has paid in to the fund is returned to him with interest.
- (6) Since my opponent is a candidate for another 10 years, if defeated, he would retire involuntarily and would be eligible for a retirement annuity under Option 1 of $3,000.00 per year, with a minimum to be received of $38,000.00, of which amount $12,000.00 is contributed by him and $26,000.00 by the State taxpayers.
- (7) It will cost more if my opponent is elected for another 10 years because his retirement annuity under Option 1 under present conditions at the end of 30 years would be $8,400.00 per year, with a minimum to be received of $76,000.00, of which $20,000.00 is contributed by him and $56,000.00 by the State taxpayers.

If you, the taxpayer, want Economy in Government, Vote for McPherson for Judge.

He will do the job well and he will not accept any retirement.

VOTERS FACE BIG PENSION ISSUE IN STATE BALLOT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The heat of election campaign oratory intensified Saturday throughout Pennsylvania as the time of decision neared for voters in Tuesday's balloting.

There is no statewide contest, and only a couple of local fights that have gone past the lukewarm stage.

The only question facing all eligible Keystone state voters—numbering slightly more than five million—is a constitutional one.

Face Constitutional Problem
Should higher pension payments be given to retired school teachers and other former public workers now receiving benefits? Leaders of both parties favor the amendment and two sessions of the state Legislature have approved it.

Other than that the election issues are all local, with party concentration centered in the effort to win or retain control of the courts and other minor offices in Pennsylvania's counties, cities and smaller communities.

Philadelphia's turbulent mayoral campaign has attracted the greatest interest—locally and nationally. The Democrats are seeking to stay in power another four years while the Republicans, backed personally by President Eisenhower, hope to regain the City Hall they lost in 1951 after 68 years of continuous control.

On Dem Side
Richardson Dilworth, who was Mayor Joseph Clark's successful running mate as district attorney four years ago, is the Democratic candidate. He is a seasoned campaigner, active in politics for some 20 years and in 1950 was beaten for governor by Republican John Fine.

Opposing Dilworth is a political novice, advertising executive W. Thacher Longstreth, only 35.

Besides Philadelphia, 28 of the state's third class cities will elect mayors—20 of them now headed by Republicans.

Philadelphians interested in continuing the reform-type government instituted by Clark have little to choose: Dilworth and Longstreth both based their campaigns on good government.

Wants To Finish Job
But the charges and counter-charges have flown thick and fast, with Dilworth asking the voters to elect him and allow him to finish the job that Clark began.

Longstreth said "a gang of very powerful individuals has moved in to control the city government"—describing them as people Clark has opposed.

There's another hot battle in Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) and a few political sparks are flying in Luzerne County where voters must choose a state senator. In the Luzerne contest former Gov. John Fine, long a GOP leader in that anthracite region, has injected himself—joining the forces he once opposed.

Pose Tax Question
However, Fine himself is not an issue this time. The voters are being presented with an economic question: What kind of tax should be passed by the state Legislature to balance the commonwealth's budget.

Former state Sen. Peter M. Marzette, a Democrat seeking the seat of his late party associate, Patrick J. Toole, said he would support Gov. Leader's proposal for a classified income tax, while Republican William H. Davis said he would oppose any kind of state income or wage tax.

The Leader tax plan could well have an effect upon scores of

Comedy Presented At Taneytown High

A three act comedy, "Be Happy, Go Wacky," will be presented by the senior class of Taneytown High local elections, although nowhere has the issue been so clearly pinpointed as in Luzerne County.

Two Tough Contests
Allegheny County, normally Democratic, has two tough contests: District attorney and county commissioner.

The Democrats had to bring in a substitute candidate, Howard B. Stewart, because of the recent death of Harry W. Fowler, nominated for re-election as county commissioner. Also seeking another term are John J. Kane, Democrat, and John M. Walker, Republican.

Dist. Atty. James F. Malone, Republican, is rated a 50-50 chance to win re-election over Democrat Edward C. Boyle.

State registration figures showed 5,335,169 voters registered—2,771,754 Republicans, 2,201,902 Democrats, and 61,513 non-partisan and minor parties. The Democrats picked up 86,780 new voters since the primary, the Republicans 30,857.

School on Thursday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. Profits from the play will be used to help finance the annual senior trip to New York.

Included in the cast are Phil Halter, Susanne Lawyer, Arlene Naylor and Frank Henshaw, Patricia Flickinger, Shirley Jordan, Larry Feeder, Robert Fuss, Mary Alice Rue and Glen Copenhagen, Barbara Clingan, Virginia Cassell, Ruby Frock, Bill Crapster, John Skiles, and Larry Barnhart.

HOT BATHS CONTINUE

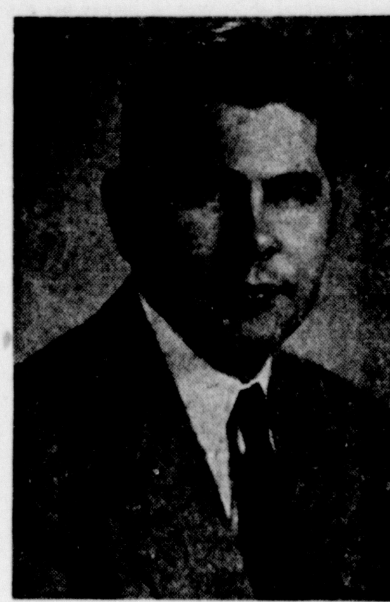

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—The City recreation department floated a ton and a half of ice into the swimming pool, but it didn't help much. The ice reduced temperature of the water about four degrees. The pool water was so warm the children who use it thought they were taking a bath instead of a swim.

Indian Plan Works With Less Effort

QUEMANDO, N. M. (AP)—State Sen. I. N. Curtin, came up with an essay which he said won a contest on soil conservation for an Indian.

"White man crazy. Cut down trees. Make big teepee. Plover hill. Water wash. Wind blow soil. Grass gone. Door gone. Windows gone. Whole place gone. Buck gone. Papoose gone. Squaw too. No pigs. No corn. No plow. No hay. No pony."

"Indian no plow corn. Keep grass. Buffalo eat grass. Indian eat buffalo. Hide make teepee. Make moccasins. Indian no make terrace. No build dam. All time eat. No hunt job. No hitch hike. No ask relief. No shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work. White man loco."
